Airliner Cracks Up At Memphis Port

. . . First Reports Say At Least A Score Injured

MEMJHIS, Tenn.—(AP)—A 40-passenger American airliner made a crash landing shortly after leaving municipal airport today and at least 30 persons were injured. No one was reported killed.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — (AP)—A 40-passenger American airliner cracked up shortly after taking off from municipal airport today and at least 22 persons were reported injured. First reports said no one was killed.

The airline could confirm only that it was down in a wooded area.

One witness said the craft's motor failed and it was unable to gain altitude. He said it zoomed downward and cracked into a tree.

Firemen arrived on the scene shortly after the crash and quickly extinguished flames about the craft. Witnesses said only the engines caught fire.

It was reported the plane had 44 persons aboard.

Jack Southworth, one of the first to reach the scene, said:

"The pilot made a beautiful crash-landing. This section is heavily wooded, and he seems to have picked the one gap in the trees to make a belly landing. The left wing, although the left motor caught fire and burned, is apparently intact."

Tempers Flare As Housing Debated

Democrats Propose To Cut Low-Rent Public Units To 810,000 In The Next Six Years

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A punch swinging encounter between 83-year-old Rep. Sabath (D-Ill) and Rep. Cox (D-Ga) took place on the house floor today, touched off by dispute over the administration's housing bill.

An eyewitness, Rep. Walter (D-Pa), said Cox, who is in his 60s, slapped Sabath in the mouth and knocked off his glasses.

Cox Asks Time To Talk.

Walter said it began in an argument over whether Sabath would give Cox time to talk.

There had been a bitter previous debate, with Sabath jumping on the "real estate lobby" and pleading with the house to help "deserving American citizens" who are crying for housing.

Then came the quorum call. That stops business and reporters in the gallery over the chamber went outside to write. The scrap between Sabath and Cox sent them rushing downstairs to the floor, where Walter told them that this happened:

Sabath was sitting down at a table when Cox came up, leaned over and asked for 10 minutes to make a speech.

Sabath, as chairman of the rules committee, is portioning out time for debate over what rule the housing legislation shall be considered under.

Sabath told Cox he didn't have that much time.

Cox called him a "liar."

Then, Walter went on:

"Cox slapped him in the mouth and knocked off his glasses. Sabath jabbed him back, a right and left to the face. A pair of beauties."

About then, Rep. Delaney (D NY) jumped in between them with his 200 pounds. Cox walked away, but come back in two or three minutes.

Sabath motioned him off with a hand and a crowd of congressmen gathered around to stop any further first swinging.

Cox has been one of the leading foes of the housing measure. He was the only one to make a speech against it at a democratic caucus yesterday.

This was a party meeting that voted 147 to 8 to support a low rent public housing program but only after trimming it from the 1,050,000 units in seven years asked by President Truman to 810,000 to built in six years.

As the members kept coming in to answer their names and to resume debate, Cox went over again to where Sabath was sitting and the two conferred with plenty of gestures.

Cox moved away and sat down laughing.

Cox told newsmen later there was "nothing to it," and the difficulty arose over "the matter of getting a little time" to discuss the housing bill. Sabath was controlling the time.

They Pose Shaking Hands.

"I have a genuine affection for Adolph," Cox said. "He's a fine old man. I really love him."

And to prove it, he agreed to pose with Sabath, shaking hands, for photographs.

Sabath told newsmen Cox asked for 10 minutes of time and was told that he could have only five because of previous commitments.

"I told him that was all I could spare," Sabath said.

"Then he told me I was not keeping my word. I told him 'you lie when you say I don't keep my word.'"

He claimed he got in a "good" blow before being stopped.

Later, he added, Cox apologized.

"I'm sorry too," Sabath said. "Gene is really a capable gentleman."

When debate was resumed, Sabath told the house the "real estate lobby" was trying to lead congress members to believe the housing bill would cost $16,000,000,000 to $20,000,000,000.

In the trimmed-down version, Sabath said, the cost will be $7,500,000,000 or $8,000,000,000 spread over 40 years.

A little later, Sabath smiling said:

"Mr. Speaker, I yield seven minutes to my colleague, the gentleman from Georgia, Mr. Cox."

Cox swung into a blistering speech against the housing program with nary a reference to the punch trading.

The trimming down which the democratic meeting agreed to yesterday would cut federal subsidies for low-rent housing from a top of $400,000,000 a year to $308,000,000.

Normal Referendum Vote Not Sponsored By N.U.

Matter For State---Gustavson; Day Clarifies Alumni Stand

In statements issued Wednesday, the University of Nebraska and the school's alumni association made it clear that they are not the sponsors, directly or indirectly, of a proposed referendum to override a 1949 legislative act giving Nebraska State Teachers colleges the right to grant liberal arts degrees.

Simultaneously, Chancellor R. G. Gustavson and W. L. "Bill" Day, Lincoln, president of the Alumni association, issued the statements with the board of regents endorsing the chancellor's statement.

Taking No Part.

Both announcements said the university and its alumni association are taking no part in the proposed referendum and warned that solicitors or petition circulators have no authority to assert or imply the university or the association is back of their efforts.

"The University of Nebraska has never taken an official position either for or against the granting of liberal arts degree by the State Teachers colleges," the chancellor said.

"The university administration believes the franting of liberal arts degrees by the state Teachers colleges is a matter for the state, not the university, to decide.

"During the legislature's deliberations on the liberal arts bill, no representative of the university appeared either in favor of, or opposed to the measure.

Move Not Authorized.

"The fact that the legislature saw fit to authorize the State Teachers colleges to grant liberal arts degrees does not change the university's position on this question," Chancellor Gustavson said.

Mr. Day said:

"Recent press reports have indicated the University of Nebraska Alumni association is sponsoring a referendum to revoke the authority of Nebraska State Teachers colleges to grant liberal arts degrees.

"The association has never discussed or authorized such a move. Certainly, we are not opposed to the democratic process of referendum but the association has not endorsed, or even discussed, repeal by referendum of the new law giving the State Teachers colleges the right to grant liberal arts degrees."

Rent Control Referendum Drive Opens

State Approves Petition Forms

Circulation of petitions for referendum votes on the state rent decontrol act, passed by the last legislature, was ready to get under way Wednesday when Secretary of State Frank Marsh approved the printed form of the petition.

The petition drive is being led by the Nebraska Veterans of Foreign Wars, and has received backing from the Central Labor Union of Omaha and the Nebraska Young Democrats.

By obtaining 47,634 valid signatures and filing them with the secretary of state before Aug. 27, the lifting of controls on Nov. 1, 1949, as provided in the decontrol law, can be halted.

This would hold up the effective date of the law until the 1950 elections when the people would vote either to re-instate it or kill it.

Labor Here To Meet.

Meanwhile, labor union members in Lincoln will attend a meeting Friday when they will be asked to support the move to stop decontrol. The V.F.W. has scheduled a meeting in Omaha Saturday to map strategy for the circulation of petitions.

Radio commentator Drew Pearson last Sunday predicted that the groups backing the drive would receive the necessary signatures and that decontrol would not go into effect on Nov. 1. He also stated that truckers would assist the drive by carrying the petitions into every county of the state for distribution.

The decontrol bill was passed over the governor's veto after the legislature refused to accept a compromise date of April 1, suggested by Governor Peterson.

Denies "Union Controlled."

OMAHA — (AP) — Albert M. Witzling, president of the Omaha Central Labor union (AFL) issued a blistering denial today that "union elements" controlled a Veterns of Foreign Wars meeting which voted to fight rent decontrol.

The state V.F.W. convention last week adopted a resolution callmg for a drive to put a rent control referendum on the 1950 general election ballot.

Witzling's comment referred to a statement in the Omaha World-Herald yesterday attributed to State Sen. Lester Anderson of Aurora which said that Anderson had been "booed down" when he attempted to speak against rent controls in the V.F.W. meeting, and charged that union forces had dominated the meeting.

Witzling termed the statement a "distortion of facts" and "an absurd allegation. x x x While many union members are members of the V.F.W., non union members far outnumber them."

"The mouthings of State Sen. Lester Anderson are the usual tactics of those of his stripe. He and others like him use the smear technique in efforts to becloud any issue for which they have no logical answer," Witzling said. "If Anderson does not believe in the people deciding important issues he is not fit to be a member of the state legislature. x x x"

BRANNAN THEORY OKAYED

Bill Supports Farm Prices At New High

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A house agriculture subcommittee today approved a new farm bill that would provide perhaps the highest overall level of price supports ever attempted by the government.

It embraces a new parity system proposed by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan and sets price supports at 100 per cent of that standard.

The measure also authorizes a three crop "trial run" of the Truman administration's proposed "production payments" farm plan. Sponsors contend this plan would give consumers lower food prices and assure a definite income standard for farmers.

The bill would repeal outright the 1948 Aiken law which provides for a flexible, 60 to 50 per cent of parity, support program for agriculture, starting next year

The government now supports prices of basic farm crops at 90 per cent of parity. The law sets a formula for figuring parity, which is declared to be a price calculated to give farmers a purhasing power in line with the pries of things they have to buy

The vote in the subcommittee was not disclosed. The full agriculture committee will onsider the measure tomorrow.

Overloaded Transports Are Target

Peterson Says Trucks Don't Pay Full Share Of State Road Costs

COLORADO SPPRINGS, Colo. — (AP) — Nebraska's republican Gov. Val Peterson told the governor's conference today that the "box cars on rubber tires" rattling over the nation's highways don't pay their share of road costs.

Opening the final day of the 41st annual meeting, Peterson called on his colleagues for discussion of lobbying he said is being done against increased gasoline taxes.

"There seems to be a national pattern of petroleum and trucking dinterests to fight gasoline tax increases," he said.

Peterson said it costs about one-fourth more to build roads to carry the load of heavy trucks. Yet he said they represent less than one-half of one per cent of total traffic.

Burglars Get $500 Loot In 5 Robberies

Burglars who entered three business houses in Gresham and one each in Aurora and Hampton made off with loot valued at about $500 early Wedensday, according to reports to the criminal division of the state safety patrol

At Gresham, where the burglars were active at 4 a. m., they entered the Legion club, Diers Brothers store and the Hartman & Son drug store. Two slot machines in the Legion club were looted.

It was estimated that $350 in cash was obtained at Gresham as well as a revolver, three watches, fountain pen sets and other merchandise. The Hampton Hardware store was reportedly robbed of $25 in cash and an air rifle. Five dollars in change was taken from the Aurora Hatchery, officials said.

A resident of Gresham reported that he had seen the two burglars from the window of his home. He described one as tall and slim and the other short. He explained that he did not leave home to give the alarm because of the shooting that took place in the capture of the Goldberg jewel bandits.

Goldberg Labels As False Story About Missing Gems

"No One Has Made A Complete Check Of Jewelry Since Robbery," He Says

By ARCH DONOVAN.

L. Elton Goldberg and Lt. Harold Smith of the criminal investigation division of the state safety patrol indignantly denied Tuesday that anyone has knowledge of any gems being missing in the $75,000 holdup of two Lincoln men near Lyons last Friday.

"No one has made a complete check of the jewelry since it was recovered from the car after the two bandits were killed," Goldberg said. "It has been in the possession of Capt. Eugene Masters of the Lincoln police since it was turned over by the officers."

Goldberg, who appeared at the police station shortly after 2 p. m., took the jewels to a Lincoln bank where they were placed in a safe deposit box. He was escorted from the station to the bank by one plainclothes officer.

"A final check of the jewels will be made later," Goldberg reported.

Valuable Stones Check.

Goldberg was returning from Sioux City with W. H. "Bill" Davidson when the two were held up by Albert C. Gladson and Alton Crapo, Kansas desperados, on the highway near Lyons. The bandits were later killed in a gun battle with highway patrolmen and Sheriff Ed Patach south of Howells.

Goldberg said that he did look to make sure that a number of the more valuable pieces were recovered. When he found the most valuable items safe, he said, he did not bother to make sure that all of the little pieces were recovered.

Some of the packets of diamonds in the special leather case were broken open before the bandits left the scene of the holdup, he explained. He said he saw a number of loose diamonds fall into his traveling bag when the jewel case was opened upside down.

Lieutenant Smith said that some of the diamonds were found on the floor and seat of the bandit auto and were swept up together with shattered glass and placed in the bag. He said that every time the jewelry was handled it was in the presence of several officers.

Reports from Schuyler that some of the jewelry might have been turned over to an accomplice were termed "fantastic" by officers who participated in the manhunt. If the bandits had an accomplice they would either have changed autos or hidden out until the search slowed down, officers contend.

Goldberg agreed with the patrol officers that if there were any accomplices they probably were in Sioux City and the ones that "tipped off" the gun toting duo to the fact Goldberg was carrying jewelry.

Goldberg denied that he had talked to anyone or ever said that 15 or 20 diamonds are still missing as he was quoted in an Associated Press story quoting County Attorney L. L. Pospishil of Schuyler. He said he had given the safety patrol a receipt for the jewelry.

I. R. Court Denies Hydro Wage Boost

Union's Motion For Investigation Of Pay Dismissed

The state court of industrial relations Wednesday dismissed a union request for a 30 per cent increase in wages and changes in working conditions for employes of the state's three hydro districts.

The court found that wages paid by the districts are comparable to the prevailing wage paid other workers in the same area who exhibit similar skills under the same or similar working conditions.

May Appeal.

Local No. 739 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers had requested the wage increases for employes of the three districts.

The districts are the Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation district, North Platte; the Loup River Public Power district, Columbus; and the Central Nebraska (Tri-County) Public Power and Irrigation district, Hastings.

The court dismissed the union's motion for an independent investigation of the wages and working conditions to be conducted by the court.

The districts' motion to dismiss the petition also was overruled.

Hearing in the case was held early this month.

The union may, if it wishes, appeal to the state Supreme court.

The appointment of Ernest M. Owen, Lincoln, as assistant state supervisor of special education for handicapped children was announced Wednesday by Wayne O. Reed, state superintendent of public instruction.

E. M. OWEN

Owen now is a psychologist with the veterans' administration. The appointment becomes effective July 1.

According to Reed, Owen will work with Raymond M. Taibi, director of special education, in the administration of the special education program for handicapped children, which has been made possible by the passage of LB 79 during the past session of the legislature.

Owen has his M. A. degree in special education from the University of Omaha and has completed some work toward his Ph. D. degree at the University of Nebraska.

He has served as supervisor of adult training, welfare and recreation at the Winnebago Indian agency, and was also a student counselor and instructor at the University of Omaha.

L. J. Bible Is Named To State Resources Staff

L. J. Bible, McCook, Wednesday was named assistant chief of the division of Nebraska resources by Rufus M. Howard, state director of agriculture and chairman of the Nebraska Resources committee.

Bible, 34, is secretary-treasurer of the McCook chamber of commerce. A veteran of World war II, he was formerly a newspaperman in Lincoln, Alliance, Fremont and McCook. He is a graduate of the University of Nebraska.

Effective July 16.

Howard said Bible would join the state agency on July 16. As assistant to Allen Dowling, division chief, Bible will be in charge of research and publications. Howard said the addition of Bible completes the Resources Division staff for the first phases of an intensified development program outlined for the 1949-51 biennium.

"We feel that Bible's Nebraska background, his broad community experience and his familiarity with the reclamation development in southwestern Nebraska will make him a useful member of our staff," Howard said.

He will confer with Howard and Dowling in Lincoln later this week to make arrangements for his new duties.

Acheson Reports

Atlantic Pact Approval Of Utmost Importance, Senators Are Informed

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson appealed today for action at this congress session on the Atlantic treaty and the arms assistance program. He got backing from Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich).

Vandenberg, republican leader on foreign policy matters, said "congress can't adjourn without acting on both."

WASHINGTON—(AP) —Secretary of State Acheson said today ratification of the North Atlantic pact and approval of the arms assistance program are of "utmost importance" to this country's dealings with Soviet Russia.

He told the senate foreign relations committee at a closed session that the outcome of the Big Four foreign ministers conference at Paris "re-emphasizes" the need for action at this session of congress on these key administration measures.

"This is necessary in order that we may continue our firm policy in Europe and maintain the momentum which has been stimulated by that policy," Acheson said.

"This momentum in my opinion, was responsible for the lifting of the (Berlin) blockade, the convening of the council of foreign ministers and the accomplishments at that meeting."

A day after his return from the Paris meeting, Acheson gave a report to the senate committee at a two hour session.

Acheson's return from the Paris meeting yesterday was followed by an appeal from President Truman for "no slackening" in vital phases of American foreign policy.

In a statement issued after a meeting with Acheson, Mr. Truman said:

"It must be frankly admitted that despite the forward looking program sponsored by the western powers as a basis for unification (of Germany), little progress was made."

The results of the meeting, he added, "reveal the correctness of the policies this government has been following in our foreign affairs.

"The results again underline the necessity of pursuing these policies with calmness and determination, as the only sure road to the establishment of conditions in the world where peace and freedom can live and endure."

Public Hearings Suggested On Auditorium Site, Size

. . . Miles' Recommendation Of Joint Meeting

Mayor Clarence Miles suggested Wednesday that public hearings on the size and location of the auditorium be conducted "in the near future."

The mayor made that suggestion at a meeting of the city council, the planning commission, and the auditorium advisory committee Wednesday afternoon. Action on the recommendation was expected later today although there has been some debate among members of the several bodies as to the practicality of public hearings.

"Now is the time for full public discussion on the subject," the mayor stated. "I hope," he added, "the public will be primarily interested in getting the facts and relative merits of the two proposed sites before they declare themselves."

"I hope the council will be open-minded on the subject and make no commitments," Miles declared. The council must be as fully informed as possible for they will have to make a decision shortly, he added.

Special Vote?

The mayor said he has received several letters urging public hearings be held, but that it is difficult to know when and where to hold them.

By law the city is committed to the Fifteenth street site, according to the mayor. When the bonds were voted on, they were voted for that site.

A change in the location would necessitate a new election. A new election, according to Mayor Miles, would cost the city $5,000. "That is just a drop in the bucket to the $1,500,000, but it still should be kept in mind," Miles noted.

A special election on the site question would have to be initiated by petition. This would require signatures of five per cent of the vote cast for governor in the last general election. There were 33,834 votes cast for governor in the May, 1948, election. Five per cent of this is 1,692.

Great Era Of Prosperity Faces Basin

Says Gen. Sturgis; 'Only Lack Of Faith Can Defeat Progress'

CREIGHTON, Neb. — (AP) — Tracing Missouri basin development under the Pick-Sloan plan, Brig. Gen. Samuel D. Sturgis, jr., said today "we are on the threshold of a great era of prosperity in this region."

"The plan is moving along with momentous energy and nothing physically can stop it," the Missouri river division engineer said in remarks prepared for the 75th anniversary celebration being held today and tomorrow by the Creighton community.

"We have only one fear," he stated. "That fear comes from within men themselves. Only lack of faith and distrust resulting in disunity among the people in this basin can deter or defeat the progress and final realization of this great Missouri river development within the next decade."

Parade Featured.

General Sturgis was the chief speaker in today's diamond jubilee program, which also included a parade. Sen. Kenneth S. Wherry (R-Neb) will speak tomorrow.

Creighton, with a 1940 population of 1,272, is in northeast Nebraska's Knox county.

General Sturgis, grandson of an early-day pioneer and Indian fighter in the Dakotas, praised the work of the Missouri Basin Inter-Agency committee and the co-operation among federal agencies and the states under the present arrangement for Missouri basin development.

He said, however, "certain sinister and destructive forces are at work to disunite the people of this valley by creating confusion concerning the basin program. Much of this originates outside the valley and is fostered by selfish interests who quite naturally want us to change horses or even dismount."

In other speech highlights, the division engineer:

Commended the department of agriculture's recently announced program of accelerated and intensified soil conservation and erosion control in the Missouri basin. Soil conservation will prolong the life of reservoirs under construction by reducing silting, he said.

Declared that the corps of engineers "does not simply go out looking for projects to build." It starts a project only when congress says so and even then the first step is to confer with the people of the community affected and hold public hearings, he added.

Said regular appropriations will be needed to keep Missouri basin work on schedule, but added he was "keenly aware" of the public tax burden and the need for getting "the most project progress out of each dollar."

Permit Requested—Application for a temporary permit to erect a stand for the sale of fruit and vegetables at 531 North Cotner Blvd. was filed with the city clerk. Gordon and Fern Stone, who live at that address, in making the request, said most of the fruits and vegetables would be grown on that piece of land. The city council will pass on the application Monday.

Jet Planes Send Hartington Man To Storm Cellar

(Special to The Star)

HARTINGTON, Neb. — This is Nebraska's season for tornadoes and recently an old gentleman was sitting on his front porch quietly reading a newspaper when he heard a terrific roar.

He quickly searched the sky but could see nothing. However, taking no chances he headed for his storm cellar.

What he didn't know at the time was that a group of F-80 jet fighters from the Nebraska air national guard had flown low over the vicinity.

The planes, part of the 173rd jet fighter squadron, one of the guard's five jet groups, were in Hartington for an airport dedication.

Liquor Board Cites Crete Beer Licensee

Adolph Smejkal, Crete, holder of an on-an-off-sale beer license, has been cited by the state liquor commission for a revocation hearing on June 28. He is charged with sale of alcoholic liquor to a minor.

Commission members said companions of William Day, Lincoln youth whose death culminated a Memorial day trip, claimed an employe of Smejkal had sold beer to one of their group.

Day died after a fall to the pavement at Thirty-third and A during an altercation. A coroner's jury exonerated the student who allegedly struck Day.

Also cited for revocation hearing for alleged sale to a minor, was Lonnie Valasek, Omaha. Valasek, holder of a class "C" license, will appear before the commission the same day.

Hits Lack Of Funds Fight Delinquency

Probation Officer Institute Speaker

"It is about time we recognize that the most powerful resource in the world lies right in the minds and hearts of children," Richard E. Collins, Omaha, chief probation officer of the Douglas county juvenile court, said Wednesday.

Addressing the four-day institute at the university on the prevention and control of juvenile delinquency, Collins declared:

"We can build all the atomic bombs we want, but if we don't build our children properly it won't do us any good."

Policy On Names.

He added that if children are "put together properly," crimes and wars "just couldn't possibly happen."

Collins hit the practice of "a certain newspaper in my home town" to print the names of juvenile delinquents as a means of curbing delinquency.

This practice, he said, has one of two results: either the child "glories" in the publicity or other parents forbid their children to associate with the child.

The latter, he said, causes the delinquent to become an introvert and despise the rest of society. Eventually, he continued, a "group of boys in the same category take him in."

He also attacked the "stinginess" of the public to spend money to prevent juvenile delinquency.

"Thirteen billion dollars are spent annually on crime in the United States," he said, "and two billion on education.

"If 13 billion were spent on education, only two billion would have to be spent on crime."

Also addressing the institute, Dr. J. M. Reinhardt, professor of sociology at the University of Nebraska, said it is not physical deformities themselves that make children delinquent, but the "system of attitudes" built towards physical deformities.

The causes and prevention of most delinquencies lie in the society in which the child lives, he added.

Lancaster County Attorney Frederick Wagener listed the causes of juvenile delinquency as: Lack of effective religious training; home conditions and lack of parental supervision; a changing society; lack of adult interest in juvenile problems, and a lack of provisions for supervised recreation.

Calling upon churches to render greater assistance by entering upon an expanded program of supervised recreation, he said:

"A strait jacket attitude based upon a puritanical philosophy that spouts fire and brimstone is definitely not a proper approach to today's problem of juvenile delinquency."

K. J. Bridenstine, FBI agent from Omaha, said that the federal government feels that juvenile delinquents should be handled "in home territory" if possible.

"The causes and remedies of juvenile delinquency are going to have to be worked out by intelligent study by groups such as this," he said.

He also explained the functions and duties of the FBI.

Child Killed In Car Crash

. . . On Omaha Street

OMAHA — (AP) — Rosemary Walter, 7-year-old San Francisco girl visiting relatives here, was fatally injured Wednesday when struck down by a car while on her way to a cathecism class.

Police said she was struck by a car driven by George Keim, Omaha, when she walked around a bus into the path of the car. Keim was quoted as saying he was not aware of having hit anyone until he looked in the rear-vision mirror and saw the girl's form in the street behind him.

Rosemary was the daughter of Mrs. Wayne Walter, of San Francisco. The two had been visiting relatives here.

The girl's death brings to 79 the state's highway death toll for 1949.

Rokeby Man Seeks Close High School

Brings Suit For Limit To 8 Grades

A resident of the Rokeby school district filed suit in District court Wednesday challenging the June 13 action of the district to continue with a full 12 grades for the coming school year.

The lawsuit, which could well be a "test" case—there are approximately 150 such schools in the state—was filed by Glenn O. Peterson. The district and its board members, Director Omer B. Miller, Moderator Truman W. Sieck and Treasurer Albert Standfort, were named defendants.

District Judge Harry R. Ankeny set hearing date for July 13.

Peterson charges that the district has no authority for maintaining more than 12 grades since it is an article III district having less than 150 persons between the ages of five and 21 on the school census. He asks that the district be permanently enjoined from operating with more than eight grades next year.

There are no statutory provisions for high schools in article III districts, and the attorney general has ruled there is no legal basis for high schools in such districts.

Voters in the Rokeby district voted this spring to limit the school to 8 grades, but later rescinded their action June 13, deciding to continue with both elementary and high school grades.

8 Others In County.

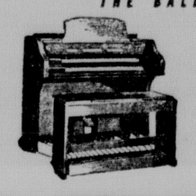

County Superintendent Glenn Turner told reporters Wednesday there are eight other article III high school districts in Lancaster county and approximately 150 in the state.

Rokeby's 1948 mill levy of 17.991 was considerably lower than the county's other article III high school districts operating with a full 12 grades. Rokeby is one of the three such districts accredited to the University of Nebraska.

Article III schools in the county and their mill levies are: Roca, 22.114; Panama, 24.781; Raymond, 26.724; Hallam, 19.068; Denton, 20.000; Cheney, 14.529; Emerald, 10.839; and Holland, 7.686. Holland and Emerald are 10 grade schools. Both Holland and Cheney contract high students out to other districts.

This past year, high school students at Rokeby numbered 15 and the elementary students 13. The faculty consisted of two high school teachers and one grade school teacher.

Petrillo Lashes At Lewis

Compromise Labor Bill Endorsed By Boss Of Musicians

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senate sponsors of a compromise labor bill claimed the support of the "great mass" of American workers today following a message of encouragement from James C. Petrillo.

Petrillo, president of the AFL American Federation of Musicians, praised the efforts of Sens. Douglas (D-Ill) and Aiken (R-Vt) to get "the best kind of bill possible to get." He told them 98 per cent of the organized labor would follow them.

The two senators are fighting for a compromise proposal providing for government seizure of industries in critical strikes.

Betrayal Charged.

Petrillo lashed out at John L. Lewis. He charged the coal miners' leader with a "betrayal of labor" for urging a "rule of ruin" policy of no compromise and because he called two strikes while congress was debating the labor bill—much to the "delight," Petrillo said, of Sen. Taft (R-Ohio).

Taft is opposing the Douglas-Aiken plan, in favor of a combined seizure-injunction proposal.

Douglas told reporters Petrillo's telegram is "greatly gratifying," and added:

"I am sure Mr. Petrillo expressed the sentiments of the great mass of American workers."

Praise From Aiken.

Aiken said Petrillo is "the first labor leader to come out in the open and recognize the situation as it is."

Meantime, the senate debate was going along leisurely, which pleased some senators, but irked others.

Senator Morse (R-Ore) still has not finished a speech he started Monday.

Yesterday Morse sat around all day and waited while the senate devoted six and one-half hours to economy, government reorganization, the maritime commission, appropraition bills ,and bills for the relief of various individuals.

As the day drew to a close, Sen. Lucas of Illinois, the democratic leader, apologized to Morse for the delay.

Perfectly all right, Morse said. In fact, he remarked, if other business interfered again today, that would be fine with him.

"The more time elapses, the better the chance of getting a good labor bill," Morse said.

But Sen. Wherry (R-Neb) told reporters angrily that Lucas "apparently doesn't want to vote" in a hurry on the national emergency proposals, or else he wouldn't have called up the small bills yesterday.

He said Lucas apparently was putting it off until late in the week, when there would be a good many absentees. Wherry himself is scheduled to speak in Nebraska tomorrow.

Lucas, on the other hand, has been deploring the slowness of events in his talks with reporters.

Contract Violation Is Charged In Suit

Cecil R. Scharton was named defendant in a lawsuit filed in District court by Preston A. Polsky and Earl York who charge he has violated terms of a sale contract executed June 29, 1948 between both parties.

The plaintiffs claim the defendant sold out his jewelry repair and manufacturing business to them in 1948 but has since become re-engaged in the jewelry business as the Ace Manufacturing company in alleged violation of the sale contract which stated he was not to re-enter the business for five years.

The plaintiffs, partners in a jewelry business known as the York Manufacturing company, ask that Scharton be enjoined from owning or operating for himself or for anyone else a business for the manufacture or repair of jewelry in the state for five years

Northeast's Heat Wave Sizzles On

Crops, Pastures And Woods All In Danger

(By the Associated Press)

A June heat wave in the nation's northeastern states sizzled on today amid a growing fear of serious damage to farm crops.

The long dry spell—no heavy rains in three weeks—intensified the hazard of fires in the heavily wooded areas of the New England states, New York and New Jersey. No immediate relief from the unseasonable heat appeared in prospect. Temperatures climbed into the 90s over the parched areas yesterday.

Soaking rains are needed, both to alleviate the danger of forest fires and to help the wilting crops and pasture lands.

In Massachusetts alone, the hot, dry weather has caused an estimated $5,000,000 damage to crops.

"Purely a matter of convenience," explained Hover, a twinkle in his eye.

Auto Turns Over After Hitting Pole, Breaking Off Tree

A car driven by Robert Cahill, 22, 1619 E street, early Wednesday morning struck and broke off a tree, struck a light pole, and then turned over before it was stopped. Cahill was uninjured.

The accident occurred near the intersection of Sheridan boulevard and Winthrop road at 1:51 a. m., police reported. They said the Cahill car went out of control after it struck the right curb, turned into the parkway dividing the street, and then struck the tree and the light pole and turned over, finally stopping 120 feet from the point where it had gone out of control.

Let It Tell Its Story

Apparently the long drawn-out discussion over over a new bridge across the Big Blue river on South Sixth street in Beatrice has been settled in favor of a two-lane structure. A decision had been delayed while federal and state officials pondered over the advisability of going all out to build a four-lane bridge to accommodate heavy traffic.

Well, the present span, if it wanted to talk, could tell quite a yarn. It has been there for better than half a century through the thick of flood and other untoward developments, but its brightest chapter revolves around the crowds which pounded its planks in the heyday of the old Chautauqua. Less than three-quarters of a mile away are the Chautauqua grounds, now comprising part of a delightful park, other portion the country club.

The Beatrice Chautauqua enjoyed a remarkable popularity.

To its platform came some of the distinguished orators of the day—a day well in advance of the microphone and the loudspeaker—of the automobile and the motor bus—the day of the horse and buggy, the family picnic, and the golden age of the heaping baskets of fried chicken and potato salad. We heard the noted divine, Sam Jones, raise hell with the devil under the friendly roof of a spacious tabernacle. We well remember the vast throng which the late W. J. Bryan drew to those grounds when Mr. Bryan turned temporarily from the American political arena to the Chautauqua platform. There were a good many thousand that day who were willing to concede that if Mr. Bryan couldn't be president, he should have been. There on a summer night we heard the late John Sharpe Williams of Mississippi give his famous lecture, "My Southern Sweetheart." Methinks that if Mississippi's rootin' tootin' John Rankin or That Man Bilbo were to have heard old John talk on that occasion they would have slunk away in search of the most convenient hole in the ground.

Yes, the old South Sixth bridge across the Big Blue has seen a lot of life in its day. The rushing crowds poured across it on their way to a day's outing in an age of American simplicity, and yet a most satisfying, wholesome way of life.

If the new two-lane structure at the end of its usefulness can give only half as satisfactory a report 50 to 100 years hence it will have no regrets.

Housing Note

The Des Moines Register reports a record crop of June brides, 230 thousand to be exact. A busy little Cupid promises to keep congress busy on the housing bill.

Premium for Gold

Columns have been written about Uncle Sam's cache of gold, the result of treasury purchases at a fixed price of $35 a troy ounce. Now Uncle Sam has a minor competitor. A Denver investment house, Roscoe Fleming reports, recently purchased some raw gold for which it paid $3,945. The same gold would have brought only $3,020 from the mint. The purchaser is willing to pay a premium for the very same reason that people all over the world always have hoarded gold—namely, that in an era of deflation it continues to command its present value or more than other commodities. If that is true then Uncle Sam has not been silly in acquiring a large part of the world's gold.

Re-arming Europe

Back from the Paris conference of the Big Four foreign ministers, press dispatches indicate Secretary of State Dean Acheson will tell congress that America must go ahead in the re-arming of western democracies of Europe. Nothing achieved in the protracted Paris talks warrants any let-down on the part of free nations in their cold war with Russia.

The decision is a painful one to make.

Any step to be taken is an unsatisfactory one. We are reminded constantly that a show of strength, coupled with firmness, when Adolph Hitler was laying the foundations for his campaign for world conquest would have averted World war II, with all of its cost in human life, its destruction of property, and its mountain of death. We scarcely need a reminder that armament today entails financial burdens running into the billions. Total war, into which civilization was drawn in the early '40s, calls for weapons a hundredfold more costly than ever before.

There can be no acceptable choice when the alternatives confronting us are (a) through lack of adequate security measures to gamble dangerously with our freedom; or (b) by taking proper steps to arm ourselves against possible attack to pile added burdens upon our economy. Yet that is the choice which is given us. To say that we like it is to play hide-and-seek with the truth. To suggest that we can close our eyes to it is to fool only ourselves.

Nearly 40 cents of every dollar collected by Uncle Sam today either goes to meet the bill for wars that have been fought and won, or to provide the security that we demand in the present dangerous world. If the total costs of government in Washington now, and in the immediate future, call for 40 billions or more, the American people should recognize that not less than 20 billions of it, and possibly more, can be attributed to the failure to achieve understanding, and satisfactory peace settlements. We make no pretense of understanding the Russian mind. We do know that if the maintenance of American standards of living becomes difficult with each passing year under the burdens of the bill for national security, a backward Russia is punishing itself doubly in any attempt to improve the standards of living for its millions of people.

If the free nations have missed the boat in the quest for people, then the peoples living under a ruthless, tyrannical regime in Russia also have missed the boat. Every month the Russians continue to obstruct attempts to reach peaceful understanding the Kremlin retards improvements in Russian life to that extent.

Thirteen To Go

When in March of 1947 the republican-controlled 80th congress submitted a constitutional amendment limiting the tenure of the president to two terms, speedy action was anticipated. Two months later, 18 of the 48 states had given approval. But at that point enthusiasm seems to have chilled. If the required 36 states ultimately ratify (at this point 23 have), the proposed amendment will barely beat the deadline which congress itself imposed for ratification, March 24, 1950. The remaining 13 states largely are located in the deep south, generally in rebellion against the late FDR, but equally unyielding in opposition to the proposed constitutional change. Withal, America's reluctance to drastically alter its form of government is best revealed by action on proposed constitutional changes. In more than 150 years the American people have approved only 21 constitutional amendments.

Wasters And Wastrels

The Institute of Life Insurance reports that the sale of all types of insurance in May of 1949 was five per cent greater than for the same month in 1948. For the first five months of 1949 the increase in insurance was four per cent. But what could be expected? None of us want to work, none of us desire to save a penny, and all of us want to live off Uncle Sam! Clearly the growth in insurance and the increase in savings prove we are a nation of wasters and wastrels. The American people bought more insurance in the first five months of 1949 than any other year in American history.

AMERICA'S NEW GIANTS

In a matter of slightly more than 40 years America has bred a new race of industrial giants. The fact is well obscured by fine type in a table appearing in a current financial publication, listing the 25 largest American manufacturing corporations, based on reported total assets, for every decade, beginning with 1900. In 1900 the table shows not one of the 25 largest corporations in the United States was associated with the oil industry. Five decades later, less a year, nine of the 25 largest corporations in this country were oil companies—five of those nine oil companies possess larger aggregate assets individually than all of the 25 giants combined in 1900.

★

It is a fascinating study in this age of oil, steel, electricity, and atomic energy, the latter only recently born and as yet a carefully guarded secret. How are we Americans doing? In 1949 the greatest corporate giant in the United States on the basis of reported assets, Standard Oil of New Jersey, has two and one-half times the assets of the combined 25 giants of 1900. The 25 leaders in 1949, admitting that 1949 dollars are not 1900 dollars, possess 29 times the assets of the 25 giants of 1900. Yet we are being told in recent weeks that this country is flat busted. The smallest giant of 1949 falls just short of reporting four times the assets of the largest giant of 1900. The largest giant of 1949 has 23 times the assets of the largest giant of 1900. Those figures are challenging.

★

The table itself is also revealing. It invites reflections upon one of the hottest fights now in progress in Washington, a struggle largely unnoted, but one of infinite importance to America's future. It is the battle for possession of the fabulous wealth which lies under the sands off the coast of continental America—the struggle for Tidelands oil. Rarely do the undercurrents of that fight project themselves in the news columns. It revolves around the efforts to persuade this 81st congress to approve legislation which in practical effect would nullify a decision by the United States Supreme court, quieting title to the Tidelands oil reserves in Uncle Sam. The suit which the Supreme court decided relates to oil off the California coast. More recently Attorney General Tom Clark has been preparing similar actions in connection with Texas and Louisiana. Originally the oil companies themselves conducted the battle to retain title in the states, and to insure that development of this off-shore oil would come under the regulation of the individual states. More recently, California, Texas and Louisiana, the three states most vitally affected, have carried on the crusade under the guise of protecting the rights of the sovereign state.

★

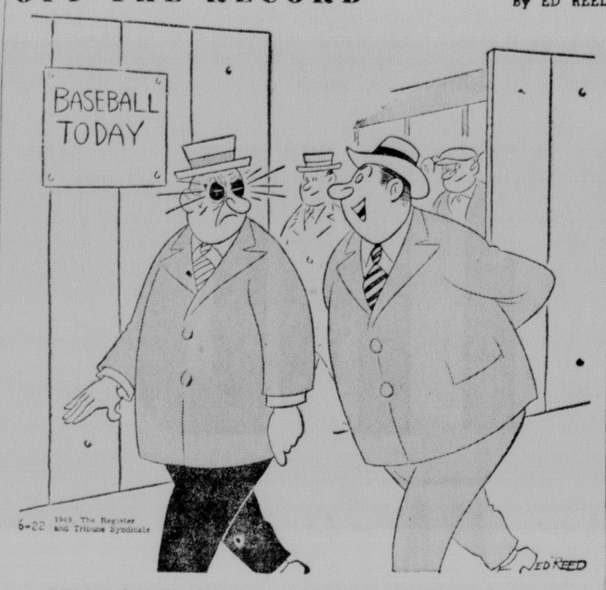

We are inclined to believe that among other issues involved in the Tidelands controversy, the purse figures to some extent. In that table dealing with the rise of America's giants we race through 49 years of exciting history. The old transportation war that was a saga within itself, the steady industrialization of an agrarian democracy, the dawn of electricity, and the birth of the automobile, and the age of modern living have bred a new race of giants, and in their ranks may be seen the towering figures of the oil giants. We recognize their great contribution to America's economic health, progress, and to the individual happiness of the American people. We do not hate them; we respect them for their achievements.

★

But offshore are the last great oil resources of this nation. On many occasions we have said we think that the great, subterranean lakes of oil near at hand, although buried under water, in the interest of national security and on the basis of sound, farsighted policy should remain under the watchful eye of Uncle Sam. Need we be reminded that in 49 years so enormous has been the draft upon American oil that in its fulfillment has came nine of the top 25 industrial corporations of present-day America.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

TRADE MARK REGISTERED

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The 48-hour mystery over J. Edgar Hoover's resigning as head of the FBI got stirred up from two separate sources.

One was President Truman, who got highly indignant at the smearing of a lot of innocent bystanders when the FBI reports in the Judith Coplon case were published. Truman felt that unchecked rumors should not have been allowed to get into the FBI files, and for a while he was all for firing the efficient FBI chief.

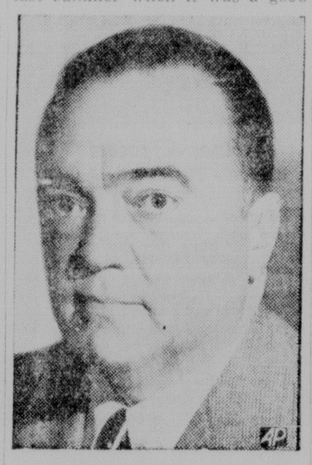

The other source was J. Edgar Hoover's public relations man, Lou Nichols, a smart and likable, Greek-American, formerly Nicholopolous, who, in his zeal to protect his boss, sometimes outsmarts himself.

It was Nichols who set in motion the rumor that Hoover was about to resign — as a backfire against Truman's intimation that it might be a good thing to have Hoover resign.

• • •

Nichols was busy as a bird dog dropping hints to newsmen about friction between Hoover and his chief, Attorney General Tom Clark, and one editorial in a local Washington newspaper followed Nichols' conversation almost verbatim.

Nichols is the same alert busybody who shuttled back and forth between the FBI and Capitol Hill last summer when it was a good bet the republicans were going to win in November. He seemed almost as much at home in the office of Congressman Parnell Thomas, chairman of the un-American activities committee, as the congressman himself. (Thomas is now under indictment in a kickback scandal.)

PEARSON reveals what he believes to be the inside story on the erroneous report of the impending resignation of FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover (above) and his relations with Attorney General Tom Clark. Hoover's superior.

Nichols also was chummy with G.O.P. Senator Ferguson of Michigan, a bitter foe of the justice department. In fact, Lou was credited with slipping Ferguson the Elizabeth Bentley spy data, and was so active that some capitol observers were unkind enough to say Lou was playing his cards to become chief of the FBI once the republicans took office—though this observer has never detected anything but strict devotion to his FBI chief.

• • •

Contrary to reports of trouble between Hoover and Attorney General Clark, Hoover never sent a letter threating resignation, and here is what actually happened between the two men:

Clark telephoned Hoover after Dr. Edward U. Condon of the bureau of Standards had asked for an FBI apology. Jokingly, Clark called Hoover "Dr Condon." Hoover laughed.

Clark then asked how many confidential agents he had lost as a result of making public the FBI reports in the Coplon case Hoover said he had lost about 12, and that the one that was most important was inside the Russian embassy.

The attorney general said he had been talking to Acting Secretary of State Webb, who said he was sure the Russians knew they were being watched.

• • •

Clark went on to say that he simply could not drop the Coplon case rather than produce the FBI reports because, if he did, every espionage agent in the United States would figure he had immunity. He would know the FBI could not produce its reports in court to prove the government's case.

Hoover then asked if the justice department couldn't take "a contempt" as in the Touhy case in Chicago. There, Gangster Roger Touhy had demanded that certain FBI reports be produced in court, and the justice department had refused, even though Judge John Barnes threatened to hold the local U. S. attorney in contempt.

Clark replied that the Touhy case was different from the Coplon case in that Touhy was making an appeal and the burden of proof was on him. Therefore, all the justice department risked in taking "a contempt" was a $100 fine. In the Coplon case, on the other hand Clark continued, the justice department was the prosecutor, and if it was held in contempt the judge would not merely assess a $100 fine, he would dismiss the case.

• • •

Hoover said he guessed the attorney general was right. He added that publication of the FBI papers in court was now water over the dam, but he would be dead opposed to producing the "top secret" document.

Clark said he heartily agreed, and that if the judge ruled this report had to be published, then he would appeal to a higher court and if overruled there, then he would move to dismiss the case. (Since then, Judge Reeves has ruled that this top-secret document was not to be produced.)

The conversation was completely cordial throughout, as have been releations between Hoover and Clark ever since Clark became attorney general. While Hoover has sometimes differed with other attorneys general, he and Clark have been close friends ever since Clark was assistant attorney general in charge of the criminal division.

• • •

1. The FBI builds its files somewhat like a newspaperman builds his files. A piece of information comes in from some source which means nothing. Then something comes in from another source, and perhaps from a third source, which taken separately mean nothing. But put together, they begin to tell a story. Therefore, the FBI is duty bound to keep unchecked rumors in its files.

2. However, these unchecked rumors should not be made public, any more than a newspaperman can afford to publish rumors without checking for accuracy. Unfortunately, however, many unchecked FBI reports have been made the basis for firing government servants in loyalty tests in which the accused is not even permitted to face the source of the unchecked rumor.

RUMOR AND GOSSIP

Who seeks the worst can twist the fact
And sinful make the slightest act.
For not 'til all is understood
Can men distinguish bad from good.

Rumor and gossip little heed
The truth of what they hear or read.
Their tales, from evil thinking spun,
Tell never why the deed was done.

All down the years mankind has grieved
Because the worst has been believed.
And good, whenever pointed out,
Has often been received with doubt.

I think it strange that mortals should
Think evil surer than is good.
And question everything worth while,
But never stop to doubt the vile.

HARD WINTER.
Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: We are wondering if the VFW and their petition signers against the rent control law will expect property owners and landlords to house them while they are doing this job. No doubt the landlords can read the petitions and check the signers' names. In case a vacancy occurs the owner still has a choice of tenant, we hope. It's going to be another hard winter; everyone should be sure of a roof over his own head instead of causing trouble for satisfied tenants.

NOTE: We doubt that signing a petition constitutes grounds for eviction.

GOLDEN RULE ON RENTALS.
Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Speaking of rent control, how would it be if landlords and tenants practiced the Golden Rule? Suppose the landlord should say to himself: "My tenant works hard for a comparatively small wage. He has quite a family to support, and food and clothing are high. After paying my taxes and insurance and upkeep I will be satisfied with a fair profit. My conscience shall be my guide; I will not be an extortionist. I will treat my tenant fair." Suppose the tenant should say: "My landlord is entitled to a fair profit on his house. I will take good care of his house and will see that my children don't ruin it. If a room needs papering I am willing to do the work if the landlord pays for the materials. If some little thing needs fixing I will do it myself." What if every landlord were like the one in California I read about? He had an apartment which he rented to a waitress. She found it hard to pay the rent so he reduced it. The gas company threatened to cut off the gas because she was behind with payment, so the landlord paid the bill. The woman was so happy she gave the man a kiss. He must have been a Christian, don't you agree? If all landlords were like him we would need no rent control. I don't believe in government control except for some public utilities. It is not democracy but socialism and I am not a socialist.

CHIEF DISTINCTION

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Thomas Jefferson and a few friends organized a political party in opposition to the federalists of Alexander Hamilton, who represented the money aristocracy of that day. He named his party "republican," but soon the name was changed to "Jeffersonians," and later to "democrat." It is now 148 years since the democratic party was born. The cardinal principles for which the new party stood were: Equal rights to all and special privileges to none; that governments are not the masters of the people but the servants; that the interests of the majority must not be submerged to the greed of a majority; that the protection of property in legitimate right is essential, but between property rights and men, the rights of men come first. The democratic party has always been known as the liberal party in the United States. This liberalism is now and must always be of the heart and mind. Historically, the democratic party has been known as the liberal party in American life. Democrats have always insisted that governments must be adapted to the needs of the time. Where bold action is necessary to make government responsive to the will of the people or to protect them in their basic rights, the democratic party has always dared and always will dare to take such action. Thus we come to the basic distinction between the democratic and republican parties today.

WHY THE UNICAMERAL?
Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It appears there is a committee to circulate petitions for an amendment to the constitution increasing the number of unicameral members from 43 to a minimum of 75 and a maximum of 85. There has been much agitation and a little legislation by the last session attempting to rehabilitate political parties in this state, and it is asserted that the "democrats are split into a dozen factions and the republicans are falling apart in a similar fashion." At the time Mussolini marched on Rome there were 13 political parties. The only way government could function was by a coalition creating enough jobs to satisfy the coalators. One out of every eight adult males was on the public payroll. This condition made Italy ripe for a dictator. Those political parties were nothing more than pressure groups. For 14 years state legislators in Nebraska have been elected by pressure groups and there are more than 13 of them. Many of them have secured the legislation they wanted and when they do not want the legislation that is enacted those groups proceed to referendum by the voters. Referendum on the one-cent gasoline tax; increased appropriations for road building; new law for endorsements of candidates by political parties appear in the offing. A deplorable situation in South Lincoln exists where little children must cross a railroad or walk many blocks to a street crossing. The city council discovered that the law by which cities and towns could compel an underpass had been repealed. The late Frank Stansbury's "board rates" for insurance companies that created an air-tight monopoly on insurance rates has been quietly enacted into law. Many other similar laws will be found in the enactments of the last seven sessions of the unicameral. It has been asserted that the present unicameral has 43 leaders going in different directions. This is an exaggeration.

WASHINGTON CALLING
by
MARQUIS CHILDS

Marquis Childs

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — There they go, out into the world, the long line in cap and gown. From one side of the country to the other they are stepping out of colleges and high schools as the bands play solemn music and the orators warm up their graduation-day rhetoric.

In the audience, we, their parents, feel a bursting pride. And yet at the same time we can't help but wonder what kind of a world they are going to find. It is the old familiar feeling of watching the young bird pushed out of the nest.

Foolish, of course, since many of these young men were at Guadalcanal and Salerno and Bastogne and other faraway places with strange-sounding names and nasty climates. But parents are parents and I suppose they always will be.

• • •

While the final figures are not in, the line of college graduates this June is likely to be longer than ever before. 1948 it was 319,000, which was nearly 50 per cent greater than the prewar high of 1940.

For the first time since the war, graduates this year are likely to experience some difficulty getting jobs. That is a reflection of an economy that has slipped from phenomenal war and postwar peaks.

Ewan Clague, commissioner of labor statistics, gave some useful guidance the other day. He listed the fields in which there is likely to be an oversuuply of new graduates for the next few years as engineering, law, accounting, business administration, personnel work and journalism. By next year pharmacy may be added to the list.

• • •

There will be continued shortages in teaching, nursing, medicine, dentistry, the medical-service occupations and social work. The big need in teaching is for elementary teachers. But high-school enrollments are expected to increase by more than a third in the 10-year period beginning in 1952, and that will mean a need for more high school teachers.

"While the current unemployment level is still low when compared to the record size of the civilian labor force," Clague said, "it does mean job difficulties for new workers as well as for handicapped people, older workers, and others who are less readily hired. Industry's needs for new college graduates are also affected by the fact that the wartime and postwar shortages in a number of occupations have now been filled."

• • •

Trends in these matters have a way of shifting every decade or so. In the 'twenties the thing to do was go with a brokerage house and sell pretty pieces of paper for a lot more than they were worth. In the 'thirties government attracted a number of bright young men and women. The war and the inflation took care of the 'forties.

It seems to me there's a lot more uncertainty today. The young seem to be less sure of what they want to do. If there's to be a pattern in the 'fifties, it is not yet apparent.

Some long-range forecasters take a gloomy view of the collegians' future. They want to know where all the graduates in the years to come are going to find the respectable jobs they've been led to believe would be the reward for their education.

• • •

For example, if 50,000 engineers a year are graduated and the total replacement for the country is less than 10,000 under normal circumstances, where will the 40,000 find a chance to use their hard-won skills? If American know-how can be exported under the point IV proposal, perhaps some engineers can be sent abroad. But the number would be small.

Clague takes an optimistic view. He says engineering graduates will find that their training helps them to obtain administrative or technical sales jobs.

But engineering will not be the only category in which there will be a surplus even at present employment levels. Young men and women who educate themselves in the belief that society has a place for them and then find no place are found to be unhappy and frustrated. Young people in this class were among Hitler's early adherents in Germany.

Speculation of this kind has thus far not deterred ambitious youth. The number of graduates in 1950 is expected to be an all-time high. During the past year there were 2,400,000 students at the college level, a million more than the record prewar year. If education means something more than just a better job and a high status, then maybe the young are taking away something that will sustain them no matter what the trials and tribulations. But that is speculation, too.

GARDEN GLANCES WITH THE MOON

"I am the Creator:
I have builded here
These mighty falls,
Great red walls,
The water, blue and clear:
Cascades running,
Singing sweet.
Bring a song of Holy Birth,
And humbly men
His words repeat:
I made the Heaven and earth."

By CECILE PARRISH SWINGLE

To the poetry collectors, let me tell that today's poem is part of Guy Frederick's "Autobiography of Creation." If you will paste it in your poetry scrapbook under the poem in Monday's column you will have the complete poem. So often the poet expresses in a few short lines what the prose writer takes paragraphs to say, and, because of its rhythm, it is longer remembered.

The moon, which is definitely on the wane, it being fourth lunar quarter, is in the earthy and semi-fruitful sign, Taurus, today. It will, at 17 minutes after noon tomorrow, enter the airy and barren sign, Gemini. And near 6 o'clock Saturday night it will enter the watery and exceedingly fruitful sign, Cancer. First lunar quarter will begin Sunday morning at 4:02.

It was late day, cool and delightful, when we arrived at Spokane, Sunday, June 5. Spokane is the industrial and agricultural metropolis of eastern Washington and controls one-fifth of our nation's waterpower. There are many scenic and interesting drives in and near the city, Spokane River Parkway, Spokane Falls, Balkely Gardens, etc. Mt. Spokane, 35 miles away, was snow capped but soon unique bear grass will be in full bloom near its summit. From the White Pine country, giants of the forest start to market.

Scenic Areas.

And there is mining—lead in the Pend Oreille valley, gold and silver in the Republic area and magnesite south of Chewelah. It was only a few miles to the Idaho state line and the sun was setting as we reached Coeur d'Alene on Coeur d'Alene lake, surrounded by mountains. This is one of the most scenic and beautiful areas on God's green earth. Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman chose in 1878 the site on which Coeur d'Alene now stands for a fort. Surrounding forests each year supply millions of feet of timber which is floated down to the mills in the city on the Coeur d'Alene and St. Joe rivers.

Perhaps 126 miles almost due south is Lewiston, which in 1805 was an overnight camp of Lewis and Clark. Lewiston, with access to the Pacific by way of the Snake and Clearwater rivers, is Idaho's only seaport. Gold discoveries made history here, but there are also rich farmlands around, orchards and vegetable gardens, lumber too. The famous spiral highway is to the north and we would have traversed this had we gone to Lewiston, but we continued east to Kellogg. Near here is the Cataldo mission, which was built without nails by the Jesuit fathers over a 20-year period. Each year along about now there is the Swedish Midsummer Ting at Kellogg.

We stopped the night at Hotel Samuels at Wallace, high up in the mountains where it was cool and restful, or so we thought. I was awakened rudely next morning at 6 a. m. by the unloading of coal!

So until Friday.

THE PEOPLE SPEAK

They go in the direction of the pressure groups. An increase in the number will merely mean that the pressure groups will have that many more with which to deal. The present setup, if elected on partisan ballots, would make a good senate. A lower house, elected in like manner, backed by party programs, with at least one member from each county, would not only rehabilitate parties in this state but would relieve to a very large extent the influence of pressure groups and would return government to the people. Query: Have 43 states been 100 per cent wrong for the last 14 years? If so, why have they not adopted a unicameral?

HIGHER WAGE DEMANDS.

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Walter Reuther, after an interview with Mr. Truman, said that we were in a recession and that the only end for it was a raise in wages for labor. The cost going into the price of goods would cause higher prices. The people are in revolt now against higher prices, which people of a fair knowledge know at this moment is causing the recession, and it is getting worse daily. Many strikes are now in the making for higher pay, pensions, vacations and welfare dollars. The CIO and the AFL are back of these moves and at the same time they report that the condition is and will be getting worse. All of those who are fair-minded are reporting daily that unemployment is and will be getting worse daily, so where is Mr. Reuther's and the other labor leaders' strategy as to the outlook for curing our ills with higher pay for labor. Some people are saying through the press and over the radio that we are talking ourselves into a recession. There's no strategy there. It's just a natural cause following inflation, as has always happened before. Reports are that prices have dropped materially. That is so in some cases of goods that the people don't have to have, with substantial drops in raw materials. The dinner basket don't show but very few drops in pennies to the consumer and that is the big cost to families and those who have to eat in restaurants, so let's look at the strategy from an angle as to where it belongs, not from the top but at the bottom of the controversy confronting us as a nation of people.

Anti-Poll Tax Again Approved
. . . By House Committee

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The house administration committee today approved anti-poll tax legislation.

The bill would make it unlawful for states to require payment of a poll tax before an otherwise qualified voter could vote in primary or general elections for federal officers.

It is a part of President Truman's civil rights program.

In approving the bill, the committee turned down a suggestion from a subcommittee that action be deferred until the house judiciary committee has a "reasonable" time to act on a proposal to submit to the state a constitutional amendment to ban poll taxes.

The anti-poll tax bill cannot come before the house for a vote until the rules committee gives it clearance.

The house has passed anti-poll tax bills several times in the past but filibusters and the threat of filibusters have stopped them in the senate.

Southerners opposed to the bill are influential on the rules committee and there is a possibility the bill may be held up there.

If the committee holds it up, a new house rule, would allow Chairman Norton (D-NJ), of the administration committee an author of the bill, to call for a house vote after 21 days.

'Moral Fear Neglected In Modern World'
Air Force Chaplains From 13 States Told At Conference Here

U. S. Air Force chaplains from 13 mid-western states gathered in Lincoln Tuesday for the fourth of a series of five Chaplains' Spiritual Life conferences being held throughout the United States.

Rev. Walter H. Traub, pastor of the Kountze Memorial Lutheran church in Omaha, addressing the Tuesday evening session, told the chaplains "this modern world is so neglectful of moral fear that it is filled with all kinds of immoral fears."

"If we would fear God we would not have to be concerned with any fear on the face of the earth," he said.

Nineteen of the 32 chaplains in the 10th Air Force area registered for the three-day session on the Nebraska Wesleyan campus. Rev. Lloyd Gustafson, pastor of First Methodist church in Mason City, Iowa, addressed the opening session Tuesday.

Col. Carpenter Attending.

Col. Charles I. Carpenter, chief of air force chaplains, who flew here Tuesday from Washington, D. C., said Lincolnites are treating the chaplains "royally." Col. Carpenter was a visitor at the Lincoln air base several times during the war for inspections of religious programs.

Other speakers Tuesday were Dean Harold G. Barr, Kansas School of Religion, Lawrence, Kas., and the Rev. Paul Becker and Rev. C. Vin White, both of Lincoln.

Steinauer-Lincoln Group Picnic Sunday

The annual Steinauer-Lincoln picnic will be held Sunday afternoon at Antelope park.

All former Steinauer residents and their friends in Lincoln are invited to meet at the park bandstand at 1 p. m.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Only the Brave

BY PAUL EVAN LEHMAN

Chapter 21

On Monday morning he went over to Glenn's place and had breakfast with him. Glenn was in high spirits.

"I was going to look you up if you didn't come over," he told Jeff. "Jeb King asked me to tell you, in case he didn't see you first, to stop at the bank the first chance you get. I think they're going to ship some gold on Thursday. He wants to talk it over with you. I'm heading for Briscoe right now. Be back Wednesday afternoon unless something unexpected happens."

"How's—Connie?"

"Fine as silk. We had lots of fun. You should have been there. Well, make yourself at home here; I've got to be on my way."

He rode breezily off, and Jeff went down to the bank.

Jeff told Jeb, "There's a big chance that the rustling of your stock is going to stop."

He went on to tell of his investigations and his interview with Chuck Gale. "I think he saw the handwriting on the wall. If it doesn't stop, it's just a case of catching up with him."

Jeb listened in amazement. "Jeff," he said, "that was the slickest piece of business a feller could pull. That just supposin' didn't leave Chuck any grounds to get mad on, but it told him plain as day where you stood. I'd say you used rare judgment."

"Now what about that gold shipment?"

"Sure. We're goin' to ship on Thursday and you can start getting ready. Jake Wheeler, down at the livery corral, furnishes the wagon and team. Tell him to have 'em ready, and before you start you'd better give the whole outfit a good goin' over. We can't afford to have a breakdown between here and Briscoe."

"How about the men to go along?"

"Jake'll do the drivin', and the feller that generally rides with him is Todd Stone. Stover generally took Syd Deem and Ollie Wilks as guards inside the wagon. You can use your own judgment, but they're all good men. Whoever you select to take with you, tell 'em it's all set for Thursday and to report here at the bank at five in the mornin'. There's nobody about at that time, and all we have to do is tote the box from the vault to the wagon. There's about twenty-five thousand dollars' worth of dust and nuggets, and it'll weight over a hundred pounds."

Jeff whistled. "That's a lot of money."

"You bet it is, and if it gets away from us before we turn it over to Wells Fargo, it's my loss. But no need worryin' about that; the way we handle it, a dozen men couldn't get it. Somewhere around noon you'll have to camp for dinner. Gives the hosses a rest and the boys a chance to stretch their legs. Pick a place out in the open, John used a different one each time. It might be a good idea to ride over the trail sometime between now and Thursday and pick your location.

"Ive already done that. This gold shipment has been on my mind ever since you told me about it."

"Good. You ought to make Briscoe by sundown, and the train stops there about eight. Drive straight to the express office—it's right in the station—and keep the boys on the job until the box is in the express car. Then give 'em the night off to celebrate and drive back the next day. Got it?"

"I think so. As you say, I don't see where we can go wrong. I'm to be here at five on Thursday morning?"

"That's right."

The business finished, Jeb took up another matter.

"Glenn told us about Slug Benjamin tryin' to crack Hank Wolfanger's safe Saturday night. You sure took a chance, jumpin' him in the dark."

"I didn't jump him," said Jeff ruefully, "I jumped the safe. Never knew Hank kept so many stars in his store. When this gold shipment is out of the way I aim to go after Slug in earnest. Glenn tell you about the broken calk?"

"Yes. Findin' it was another bit of good work, Jeff."

"It was right there for anyone to see. Now I'll be on my way. I'll have everything in shape by Thursday."

On Wednesday afternoon he went again back to Glenn's place to find that young man had returned from Briscoe shortly after noon.

"Can't entirely neglect Cougar," Glenn said. "But there's absolutely nothing doing here. Guess I'll go back to Briscoe tomorrow."

"Why not ride along with the gold shipment?"

"Too slow, Jeff. I'm a busy lad these days. And I'd have to get up at four o'clock. As it is, I can leave at eight and pass you long before you get there. Say! How about grub for your dinner?"

"I've cooked up a mess of bacon and beans and Jake Wheeler's fetching along a coupla loaves of his wife's bread and some dried apple pie. I could use your coffee pot, though."

"Take it. And I'll grind some coffee for you. Also there are plenty plates and cups and eating tools, if you need them."

He got a sack of coffee and the coffee mill, and sat down with the latter between his knees and began to grind. Jeff busied himself getting together plates and cups and knives. The articles were packed in a basket, the big pot of beans set beside it on the table, and all was in readiness.

They ate dinner then, and later took a walk about town, stopping at the hotel for a couple drinks. When they had returned to Glenn's place, Jeff said, "We'd better move your cot into the office; then I won't wake you up getting breakfast."

They set up the cot in the front room, then sat down on its edge to chat and have a last smoke before turning in. By ten o'clock they were both sound asleep.

It was just four o'clock when Jeff opened his eyes the next morning, squinted at his watch by the light of a match, and got quietly out of the bunk. Some two hours later, five courageous and well armed men with a specie box containing twenty-five thousand dollars worth of gold were on their way to Briscoe.

Auto License Registration New Record

400,000 Passenger Cars In Nebraska

The motor vehicle registration division is doing its biggest business on record this year.

Director Owen Boyles said every county had re-ordered license plates already, and Douglas has re-ordered twice.

Many counties also are running out of title blanks, reflecting increased new car sales and trading in of used cars.

The department registered 574,037 vehicles last year, breaking a record which had stood since the pre-depression peak year of 1929. That year there were 546,358 registrations.

The department registered 394,652 passenger cars last year, compared to 369,846 in 1947. The figure will exceed 400,000 this year.

Return To Tabs In '51.

Nebraska counted 375,725 passenger cars in 1928. Ten years earlier there were only 198,000 passenger cars in the state.

Boyles said the 1950 license plates, made of aluminum with blue numbers on a white field, are in full production.

In 1951, he predicted, Nebraska would go to tabs as an economy measure.

"I do not like the tabs so well, but many other states use them, and as we are on a fixed appropriation, that's probably what we'll do," he explained.

This year's bill for license plates is running about $100,000, and the legislature allowed only $170,000 for the next two-year period.

Council Will Sit As Equalization Board Until Next Monday

The city council will sit for one week ending Monday, June 27, as board of equalization. This was decided by the council Tuesday morning at its first equalization hearing.

Assessment books will open for complaints from 10 a. m. to noon and from 2 p. m. to 4 p. m. except Saturday afternoon, June 25. Rees Wilkinson was selected to be chairman of the board. The city charter requires that the board sit for at least three and not more than thirty days.

Only four complaints have been received by City Assessor P. H. Matthews. They are: Harry Jordan, 2120 Woodsdale; Carl A. Clark, 1645 South Twenty-third; A. W. Griffin, trust officer at 1824 C; Edna Perrine, 1621 A street and 1955 A.

'Buzzing' Caused Elgin Plane Crash, Investigators Find

"Buzzing" was the cause of an airplane accident northwest of Elgin Saturday which resulted in the hospitalization of a Clearwater man and his fifteen-year-old son, state aeronautics department officials said.

Injured in the accident were the pilot of the two-passenger Cub plane, Homer Stearns, 37, and his son, Sammy, both of Clearwater. Stearns suffered fractures of the skull, jaw and leg. His son received a fractured wrist and facial bruises.

According to state officials who investigated the accident Monday, Stearns and his son were flying low over a field where they had been working earlier in the day. When the pilot attempted a steep climb to gain altitude, the motor stalled and the plane crashed in the center of a perfectly level hay field.

Investigators said there was no evidence of mechanical defects in either the motor or the plane. The crash completely demolished the small craft.

N. U. Experimental Crops Are "Best In Years"

Crops at the experimental farms of the University of Nebraska college of agriculture looked about the best in years to 65 touring farmers" attending the annual crops field day late Tuesday afternoon.

Divided up into groups, the farmers took close looks as research work going on in small grains, corn, grasses and subsurface tillage. They were particularly interested in experiments with fertilizers.

Considerable interest was also shown in weed control methods. The use of 2, 4-D was demonstrated in test strips across the many varieties of wheat on test. Three dates of applications resulted in differing results.

At all three sprayings—one in the fall and two this spring—the rate of application was equivalent to the amount required to control bindweed. Weed control across the sprayed strips was termed "wonderful." The fall spraying, however, resulted in some damages. More effects will probably be noted later.

Farmer Dies In Tractor Fuel Blast

Drove Truck To Seek Help

ALLIANCE, Neb. — (AP) — An explosion of tractor fuel cost the life of farmer George Miller, 55.

He died in a hospital here yesterday.

Miller was intercepted Monday by Mr. and Mrs. William Rhoads of Alliance and Mrs. Miller as he drove a truck toward Alliance after the accident. His clothes had been nearly burned from his body.

Walked Mile.

He said he had been refueling his tractor when the fuel exploded and sprayed over his body.

Miller tried to save himself by tearing off his overalls and rolling on the ground to extinguish the flames. Afterwards he walked nearly a mile to the farm to get his truck.

The widow and a daughter, Mrs. Frank Johnson of Chadron, survive.

Stories of Famous Hymns

By HORACE B. POWELL

Rock of Ages

Rock of Ages, cleft for me,
Let me hide myself in Thee;
Let the water and the blood,
From Thy wounded side which flowed,
Be of sin the double cure,
Save from wrath and make me pure.

Could my tears forever flow,
Could my zeal no languor know,
These for sin could not atone;
Thou must save, and Thou alone;
In my hand no price I bring;
Simply to Thy cross I cling.

While I draw this fleeting breath,
When my eyes shall close in death,
When I rise to worlds unknown,
And behold Thee on Thy throne,
Rock of Ages, cleft for me,
Let me hide myself in Thee.

Ask anyone to set down his favorite hymns and, in nine cases out of ten, "Rock of Ages" will head the list.

It has proved its popularity again and again. On one occasion, when more than 3,500 persons sent in lists of favorite hymns to an English magazine, all but 300 gave first place to "Rock of Ages."

The author of this much-loved hymn, Augustus Montague Toplady, was born at Farnham, England, in 1740. He was scarcely a year old when his father, a major in the English army, was killed at Carthagena. Later, with his widdowed mother, Augustus moved to Ireland and was educated at Trinity college, in Dublin.

When he was only 16 years old, he chanced one day to attend a simple evangelistic service in a barn near Codymain, Ireland. The evangelist was an unlettered preacher, but his message, based on the Bible passage in Ephesians 2:13, made such an impression on the young lad that Toplady was converted.

Commenting in later years on this spiritual experience, the author of "Rock of Ages" said:

"Strange that I who had so long sat under the means of grace in England should be brought nigh unto God in an obscure part of Ireland, amidst a handful of people met together in a barn, and by the ministry of one who could scarcely spell his own name. Surely, it was the Lord's doing and is marvelous."

Six years after he gave his heart to God in that barn prayer service, Augustus Toplady was ordained a minister in the Church of England. But, frail of body as he was, he was stricken with tuberculosis early in his preaching career and when he wrote his famous hymn, just two years before his death, he was wristling with this disease.

"Rock of Ages" first appeared in the Gospel magazine, of which Toplady was editor, in March, 1776. It came at the end of a rather remarkable religious article in which the author discussed the overwhelming weight of the sins committed by a man in an ordinary lifetime, and the consequent value of Christ's atonement for sin.

For some years, Toplady had been engaged in a sharp theological dispute with the famous Wesley brothers, John and Charles, and it is generally agreed that he wrote "Rock of Ages" to bolster arguments made for John Wesley's benefit in the religious article to which the hymn was appended.

Today, no one remembers the controversy and Toplady's "Rock of Ages" and Charles Wesley's "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" appear side by side in many church song books as the two hymns which in the opinion of most clergymen, have been more effective than any others in winning men and women to Christ.

Control Screws Tighten

Catholic Workers Required To Sign Anti-Beran Oaths

PRAGUE—(AP)—Catholic employes in some Czechoslovak government offices said today they were being required to sign statements declaring they did not support Archbishop Joseph Beran.

The archbishop is fighting attempts of the nation's communist regime to get control of the church. The government has accused Beran of trying to wreck national peace and economy and has threatened to take legal action against him.

Sign Out Of Fear.

Some laymen who signed the statements told their priests they did so in fear of losing their jobs and dwellings. Churchmen said this was another move in the communists' step-by-step campaign to whittle down the Archbishop's support and crush his resistance.

Official sources would not comment other than to claim new gains for the communist-sponsored "Catholic action" movement, a separatist body. That separatist group has been called a fraud by the Vatican and the Czech Catholic hierarchy.

Archbishop Beran was believed to be still in his palace. He has been silent since Sunday when demonstrators interrupted services he was conducting in St. Vitus cathedral.

One informed diplomatic source expressed belief the archbishop soon might be formally arrested on charges of anti-state activity and incitement to unrest. Beran now is in semi-captivity in the palace.

Communist Premier Antonin Zapotocky in a radio address last night accused Beran and other church officials of attempting to disrupt the peace of the nation and thwart fulfillment of its economic plans.

Zapotocky declared his regime would not tolerate "violations of law" by the Catholic hierarchy. He added: "Legal action will be taken against all saboteurs, provocateurs and instigators of discord and unrest."

You'll see, taste, and feel the difference

You owe it to yourself to make this convincing test. No other product removes tobacco film better—leaves teeth more natural looking than Plato. No other cleaning method so thoroughly removes the imbedded bacteria-laden film which your dentist will tell you causes bad breath. Yet Plato is as safe and harmless to plates as pure water.

You Can Actually See It Work!

You yourself can actually see how foam-action Plato goes to work, instantly. Wherever there is film or bacteria on your plate, a stream of tiny bubbles begins to rise, taking with them all of the foreign matter that makes the plate taste bad and look dingy. In a minute or so you are ready to remove your plate, brush it lightly (if you desire) and rinse. How good it tastes—how cool and clean it feels!

Why Does Plato Do Better Work?

Because Plato alone contains Miranol, a remarkable discovery of dental science. Other products without Miranol cannot possibly be as effective—soaps, pastes, gritty cleansers that wear down the plate, old "soaking" solutions. Yet Plato is more economical to use than toothpaste. And Plato is safe for your fine dental plate.

Norris Leads Power District Construction For '47-'48 Biennium

Nebraska's public power districts contracted for nearly $3,400,000 of construction in 1947-48, the irrigation bureau disclosed in its biennial report.

Norris Rural Public Power district led with four projects aggregating $1,078,785.

Consumers of Columbus had four projects totaling $616,948, and the Central Nebraska (Tri-County) of Hastings had 10 projects totaling $494,288 in the two years.

Others included Southern Nebraska Rural Public Power district, Grand Island, four projects totaling $201,818; Loup River, Columbus, three projects, $177,502; Platte Valley, North Platte, three projects, $171,077; and McCook Public Power district, two projects, $87,417.

$7,000 Cut From State Insurance Office Expenses

Savings of more than $7,000 for the biennium have been effected by Bernard Stone, director of insurance, in response to the request of Gov. Val Peterson that all code department heads attempt to reduce expenses 5 per cent below their estimate.

The reduction comes in saving almost all of the $8,000 that has been paid out each biennium since 1941 for safety of bonds the state requires as deposits for insurance companies. At that time, because many of the bonds were negotiable, it was found cheaper.

Director Stone has now required all insurance companies to deposit registered bonds or if negotiable bonds are used for deposits they must pay for their storage in banks. The bonds will be returned to the state vaults and costs reduced to $991 for insurance on the registered bonds.

The insurance department had $7,796,000 worth of bonds on deposit on Dec. 31, 1948.

Spaniel Credited With Saving Girl

. . From Man's Advances

CHICAGO—(AP) — A cocker spaniel was created today with saving a 9-year-old girl from advances by a 60-year-old man who police said forced the little girl and her dog into his car.

The girl, Jacqueline Thompson, was walking near her grandparents' south side home last night with her 3-year-old dog, "Sally." She told police the man pulled up in his car and forced her and the dog to get in.

When he made improper advances to her, Jacqueline told officers, "Sally" bit the man on the hand.

She said the man yelled and stopped the car. Then she and "Sally" jumped out.

The man escaped.

McClelland Wants Fight To Get Him Released Dropped

OMAHA — (AP) — Charles Edward McClelland has asked his former employer to drop a planned legal battle to free him from the Nebraska Penitentiary, deputy County Attorney Theodore Richling said Tuesday.

McClelland is serving a life term for the slayings of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. May, 2nd, of Alexandria, Va., in August, 1947. He pleaded guilty to second degree murder.

Richling said McClelland wrote W. T. Collins, operator of the carnival by which he had been employed prior to the slayings, saying in part "I believe it will be best to forget all about my appeal for reasons I won't try to explain to you."

Richling said McClelland had tried to sneak the letter out from solitary confinement in violation of prison rules. The letter was intercepted. After a photostatic copy was made the letter was returned to the penitentiary with recommendations it be forwarded to Collins at St. Paul, Minn.

Richling said in the letter McClelland said he had lied to the attorney Collins hired to help free him.

Officers Rewarded For Work During Jewel Theft Battle

COLUMBUS, Neb. — (AP) — Three law enforcement officials who figured in the shooting of two jewel robbers near Howells, Neb. Last Friday afternoon were possessors today of new rods and reels, presented by merchants of Columbus in appreciation of the effort.

The presentation took place during the community music festival Sunday night, sponsored by the mercantile bureau of Columbus chamber of commerce at Memorial stadium.

Introduced at the festival were Colfax County Sheriff Ed Patach of Schuyler and state highway Patrolmen Robert Kline and John Meistrell of Columbus. They received a thunderous ovation from the estimated 1,500 persons present.

Local Company To Honor Enforcement Officers

The Royal Jewelry company, Lincoln, owner of the jewels taken by bandits from a salesman announced that it will honor at a dinner sometime this week the officers who helped recover the jewels.

The officers will receive a gift from the company at that time, the company said.

Supplies Of Pork Greater

1949 Spring Pig Crop Bears Out Forecast

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Bearing out earlier forecasts of bigger pork supplies to come, an agriculture department survey today put the 1949 spring pig crop at 59,040,000 head. This is an increase of 15 per cent over last year's spring crop.

Spring pigs will provide the country's pork supply during the coming fall and winter.

The larger supplies of pork will be offset to some extent, however, by smaller supplies of beef and lamb.

Fall Figure Greater.

At the same time, the department forecast a 1949 fall pig crop of about 37,000,000 head. This compares with the 1948 fall crop of 33,995,000 head. Fall pigs will go to slaughter market in the spring and summer of 1950.

If the fall crop forecast is borne out, the total production of pigs for 1949 would be about 96,000,000 head—the largest since 1943, when a record crop of 121,800,000 was produced. Last year's production was 85,261,000 head.

In showing a spring crop of slightly more than 59,000,000 head, the survey supported predictions by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan that heavy fall and winter marketings of hogs may force producer prices below an average level of $16.50 for 100 pounds guaranteed by the government.

Affects Prices.

Government livestock experts have said that if today's survey indicated a spring crop of more than 58,000,000 head the supply of pork later in the year probably would be larger than consumer would buy at prices necessary to assure farmers the price guarantee.

Under existing law, the government would have to buy and remove from the market enough pork to keep hog prices at the guarantee level.

Brannan was asked congress for authority to use a subsidy payment method of carrying out hog price supports. This method would allow consumer prices to go lower than would the present support system.

The production of pigs by major producing states in the 1949 and 1948, respectively, spring seasons (1949 estimated) included: Iowa, 13,435,000 and 11,334,000; South Dakota 2,092,000 an 1,856,000; Nebraska 2,878,000 and 2,577,000; Kansas 1,091,000 and 949,000.

Auditorium Survey Is Presented

Includes 25 Cities' Planning Commission Re-Elects Officers

A survey of municipally owned auditoriums in 25 cities the size of Lincoln was under study Wednesday at a combined session of the city council, planning commission, and the auditorium advisory committee.

The survey, which outlines the success of various kinds of auditorium plans, including capacities, city locations, costs, transportation, and parking falilities, was offered by the planning committee.

The submission of the study followed a Tuesday night meeting of the planning commission at which all officials of the group were re-elected by unanimous vote.

They were E. J. Faulkner, chairman; Wardner Scott, vice-chairman, and Mrs. Fred Putney, secretary.

Kenneth Clark, planning assistant, submitted a draft plan showing proposed improvements of the five city blocks north of the capitol building for the commission's consideration.

As part of the work now in progress on what he called the capitol environs improvement plan, the drawings included landscaping features to improve approaches to the capitol.

Clark also showed the commission members colored slides of cluttered and interrupted views of capitol grounds, emphasizing, he said, the need for improving the surroundings.

Curb Set-Back Request.

A request for curb set-back on South street near the southeast corner of Seventeenth and South was presented to the commission by Milton Beechner. The change would allow diagonal parking area for eight cars.

Chairman E. J. Faulkner said the commission's recommendations to the city council regarding the request would be general.

He asked that a set of specifications outlining favorable conditions for curb set-backs be prepared for the city council's reference.

In Arabic-speaking countries, the word, fellah, is used to designate peasants.

Racial Clash Flares Over Use Of Pool

Eleven Injured, Two Seriously, In Melee

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — A racial clash between Negroes and whites flared in a St. Louis park yesterday over a non-segregation order.

Eleven persons were injured, two seriously.

The series of fights started over whites and Negroes using the same swimming facilities—a city owned pool in a north St. Louis park.

The Negroes were swimming in the pool under a new rule that opened the gates to them.

Thousands Gather.

At the peak of the outbreak, an estimated crowd of between 4,000 and 5,000 was at the scene.

It has been the city's policy to segregate races in playgrounds and pools. The city has two outdoor and four indoor pools for whites and three indoor pools for Negroes.

After the first report of violence, Mayor Joseph M. Darst rescinded the order allowing Negroes and whites to swim together.

About 250 white boys and 50 Negro youths went into the pool at the opening time in Fairground park — three blocks north of Sportsman's park, home field of the St. Louis Cardinals and Browns baseball clubs.

After about 45 minutes several Negroes left the pool. Police said white boys, armed with clubs and knives, attacked the Negroes. One Negro was cut on the head in the fight. Police escorted the rest from the park and told them to go home.

Toward evening large groups of teen agers and adults gathered around the park. Several bicycles, cars and trucks belonging to Negroes were damaged.

Ten persons suffered injuries in the second outbreak. More than 400 police were rushed to the park to break up the scattered fights.

The park is in a white neighborhood.

By 10 p. m. police reported the crowd was dispersing and under control.

The order to open all city pools to Negroes was issued Monday by John J. O'Toole, director of public welfare. He said the city could not prevent anyone from lawfully using a swimming pool and added that Negroes are citizens and taxpayers.

Mayor Darst said he rescinded the order "in the interest of the general public" and in line with the "time-honored policy" of separate facilities for Negroes and whites.

The mayor added: "If the Negro pools prove inadequate, it is my purpose to expand them."

World Without Christ Doomed Says Minister

. . . At Chaplain's Meeting

"Our world has been kneeling before the gods of wealth, education and success and we are beginning to feel uneasy about it. Wealth, culture and success without Christ are a body without life."

This statement was made before the U. S. Air Force Protestant chaplains meeting at Nebraska Wesleyan university Wednesday by Rev. Walter H. Traub, pastor of Kountze Memorial church, Omaha.

"We are either going to Christianize society," Rev. Traub added, "or we will fall like Lucifer never to rise again."

Undermined Society.

The speaker pointed out that our wealth has eaten into the very fiber of American life until people think only of comfort.

"Our education has given us knowledge which will destroy us unless we grow morally and spiritually," he concluded.

Also speaking at the morning session was Dean Harold G. Barr, of the Kansas School of Religion who discussed the book Philippians and recited this book as "the most rewarding book we have for a verse by verse discussion of life."

"In this book," he declared, "Paul showed his confidence in his way of life regardless of what happened. We could all profit by using Paul's philosophy of life," he added.

Rev. Paul Becker, pastor of Bethany Christian church, Lincoln, was scheduled to address an afternoon session and Dean Barr will conduct another Bible study class this afternoon. Rev. Mr. Traub will deliver the third in his series of four inspirational addresses tonight at 7:30.

Rail Worker's Body Is Found

. . . Near Tamora

SEWARD, Neb. —(AP) — The body of a man found beside the Burlington tracks a mile and three-quarters west of Tamora, Neb., 10 miles west of Seward, Monday, has been identified as that of a railroad extra gang worker.

Seward County Coroner Russell Souchek said papers found on the body identified the man as Dewey C. Lowe, 38, of Wichita, Kas.

He said Lowe had been employed on an extra gang working out of York from June 10 to 17, and friends said Lowe had been seen attempting to board a train the night of June 17.

The body was found Monday afternoon by Wayne Nordstrom, division lineman. Officers were notified and Souchek called an inquest Monday.

The coroner's jury determined that Lowe died of injuries suffered in a fall from a moving train, Souchek said. His body was claimed by his mother, Mrs Martha Baldrige, Wichita.

Lowe also is survived by two brothers, Ralph Lowe of Leavenworth, Kas., and Kenneth Lowe of Wichita.

Onion gives a tangy flavor to salad dressings and is particularly good with spring vegetable combinations. Just add half a small peeled onion to the container of French dressing, cover tightly again, and allow to stand overnight. Remove the onion the next day.

Sandhill Flood Waters Receding

ANTIOCH, Neb.—(AP)— Flood waters near Antioch have fallen after this week's warm, dry weather.

The water had flooded 2,000 acres of hayland and formed a new lake near here.

Deep snows last winter and recent rains brought the high water, according to state irrigation officials.

The new lake, was formed along a former course of Snake creek. Water on Snake creek itself has dropped a foot beneath highway 2 and the Burlington tracks a mile west of here.

Ray Herian, sr., whose ranch was threatened by the flood, was still pumping water from his basement yesterday, however.

Policy On Parking Is In Offing

Engineer, Police To Make Studies For Commission

A definite traffic commission policy statement on parking is in the offing.

That was made known Tuesday night as the quorumless seven-member body delayed a policy statement until next month's meeting pending a comprehensive study by the city engineer and the police department.

The issue arose over a request for set-backs on South street. Milton Beechner, grocer at Seventeenth and South wants set-backs to allow diagonal parking in his store. Both City Engineer D. L. Erickson and Director of Public Welfare and Safety Cobe Venner say diagonal parking should be decided according to street width and traffic volume.

Light Needed.

The police department at the next commission meeting will have a definite recommendation on the suggested traffic light at Tenth and South. Some members believe a traffic officer at the site on baseball game nights might be sufficient. Traffic Captain Paul Shively, however, says that most accidents there occur during the day. He did note that the intersection "is high on the priority list."

The suggestion that a signal light be installed at Missouri Pacific railroad racks on North Fourteenth street was referred to the city engineer for study.

Also delayed was the request of merchants on the south side of O street between Thirteenth and Fourteenth for a change from hour to half-hour parking. This matter will be studied by a definite committee, not yet decided, and correlated with the recommendations of the traffic consultant conducting the bus survey.

School Signs O.K.

The police department, especially Cobe Venner, is positively opposed to junking the present "set-out" school stop signs for a new school stop sign. The one that has been suggested sits at the corner all day, but during school hours the face of the sign is adjusted.

Venner's argument was that the present signs have "proved 100 per cent okay" as far as saving school children's lives. Traffic Captain Shively said a survey conducted on both signs shows that the sign that is there all day is often by-passed because drivers inadvertently pass it, not knowing it has been changed.

Also being studied by commission members is a police department suggestion for "a supplementary civilian police force." This would take the form of various traffic concerned individuals being supplied with cards. When they see a traffic violation, other than parking, it would be noted on the card, along with the license number and the make of the car.

These cards would be sent to the police department, which, in turn, would send a letter to the inidvidual who made the violation. He would be reminded and requested not to repeat the violation. Some members cautioned that it would have to be made clear that it was not a filing of charges and that it not be abused. The police department says it is being used to good advantage in Omaha, Wichita, and several other midwest cities.

Dobson Bid Is Low On Paving District

A low bid of $2,966.25 was submitted by Dobson Bros. Construction company for the paving district on Thirty-eighth street from Garfield to Everett. This compared to the Abel Construction company bid of $2,996.30.

Other bids opened by City Clerk Theo Berg Wednesday morning included a low bid of $4,455 by H. R. Bookstrom Construction company for a water district on Furnas avenue from Ninth to Twelfth. The only other bidder, Dobson and Robinson, bid $4,478.

The sewer district for Nelson street from Twelfth to Thirteenth got a bid of $778 from H. R. Bookstrom, comparing to the Dobson and Robinson bid of $785.

It is estimated that if the world's entire population were to start counting the number of atoms in one drop of water, it would take 10,000 years to finish the job.

Six Seek Top Merit System Post In State

. . . Examination July 23

Six applications have been received from persons wishing to take the examination for the post of director of the state merit system, Dr. I. J. Montgomery, retiring director, said today.

The examination will be given in Lincoln July 23. The new director will be chosen from applicants by the state merit system council.

Dr. Montgomery submitted his resignation as director approximately two months ago to accept a similar position for the territory of Alaska in Juneau. His resignation will become effective Aug. 1, and he will begin his new job Sept. 1.

Sellin Commissioned 'Grassroots Diplomat'

Duane Sellin, University of Nebraska student from Norfolk, Tuesday was commissioned as a "grassroots diplomat" in Washington.

He was given the unofficial commission by Undersecretary of State George V. Allen as he and 30 other 4-H club boys and girls prepared to leave Washington for Europe. All are delegates to the International Farm Youth Exchange. Sellin goes to Finland.

He sails Wednesday from New York.

June Assistance Advances Higher

Advances to counties to carry on the assistance program showed a $138,000 increase for June, but Director Neil Vandemoer explained that it was caused by counties having used up surpluses as the fiscal year came to an end.

The June advances were $1,510,551 as compared with $1,372,329 in May. Of this, $1,219,256 was for the aged, $28,024 for the blind and $263,270 to aid dependent children. Greatest increase was in the aged fund which required but $1,079,689 in May.

Guard Buildings To Be Repaired Soon At Airport

Repairs on buildings at municipal airport used by the national guard for repair and storage of motor vehicles were approved Tuesday, Adj. Gen. Guy N. Henninger announced.

With construction of the new building previously authorized, this completes 100 per cent the guard program for the fiscal year ending July 1, the general said.

The new construction is being delayed because the army engineers do not have inspectors available to send to the building sites, Gen. Henninger said. Contractors are now waiting word from the engineers in order to start the building at the airport as well as the motor vehicle storage buildings for the guard at Alliance and Kearney.

With completion of the $10,000 repair program and the new building, the Lincoln facilities will care for the storage of about 200 vehicles, Gen. Henninger said. At the present time about 400 vehicles are kept here.

No attempt has been made to shelter the 11 tanks here in buildings because of their bulk and durability, he said. Request has now been made to house them at Ft. Leonard Wood, Kans., where the guard goes for maneuvers in August. Six additional tanks now enroute will go direct to Kansas if the request is granted.

Gen. Henninger pointed out that shipping of the tanks here to Kansas and return would cost approximately $18,000 every time the annual camps are held. With an eventual quota of 70 tanks, this amount would greatly increase when all are available.

Property Value In Ten Counties Is Up This Year

. . . Tangibles Higher

An increase of $7,833,119 or 5.9 per cent in tangible property valuation for 1949 over last year is shown in the first ten county abstracts of assessment received in the state tax commissioner's office, Tax Commissioner Philip K. Johnson said today.

The ten counties reporting were Blaine, Cuming, Garfield, Hayes, Keya Paha, Logan, Nemaha, Perkins, Washington and Wheeler.

Largest single item of increase in assessment was in special schedules where the valuation was up 29 per cent or $2,030,692. Individual schedules jumped $5,110,141 or 14 per cent; business schedules $249,150 or six per cent; land and improvements $129,747 and lots and improvements $313,389.

Class A intangible property, consisting mainly of cash, money in the bank and postal savings, increased $263,399 or 1.8 per cent, while Class B intangibles, including accounts receivable and stocks and bonds of corporations, decreased $105,070 or 2.7 per cent.

Say what you will about John Lewis, not many bosses give someone else's workers a week off to prepare for a 10-day vacation.

The coal operators picked a fellow named Moses to deal with Lewis on a new contract . . . He will serve until they can find a Solomon.

The original Moses got a lot of attention when he laid down the law but he didn't have to lay it down to Lewis.

Speaking of presidents, a cultural warehouse is planned in Independence to house Mr. Truman's mementoes . . . the sweet and the bitter.

It will be a seven-story, block-long building costing $5,000,000 . . . that's provided Harry does only one elected term.

If he goes two more terms the building will be doubled in size and if he goes three a wing will be added for the Ripley collection of other odd facts.

Anderson To Speak — Lincoln Kiwanians will hear State Attorney General James H. Anderson discuss duties of his office during the Friday luncheon at the chamber of commerce. A graduate of the University of Nebraska law college, he has been city and county attorney at Scotsbluff and a state senator. Meanwhile, attending the Kiwanis International convention in Atlantic City, N. J., this week are Vice President Merle M. Hale, Judge and Mrs. Harry A. Spencer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne C. Farmer, and Curry W. Watson, district secretary.

Officials To Discuss New Egg Grading Law

State Agriculture Director Rufus Howard said poultry industry representatives and agricultural college specialists would meet at his office next Monday to consider regulations for enforcement of the new egg grading law passed by the legislature.

The act is effective August 27.

The new law provides that eggs which do not meet requirements as to size, color and cleanliness, as well as quality, must be sold as "ungraded."

"The new egg law is really a retail law in that it provides that all eggs must be sold on the basis of U. S. grade," Howard said.

Posters and pamphlets for distribution at food stores are being prepared.

Teen-agers enjoy making their own sundaes at a party. Serve one of two kinds of ice cream plus a help-yourself-tray. On the tray can go small bowls of chocolate sauce, sliced peaches, shredded coconut, chopped nuts, marshmallow topping, and raspberry syrup.

Far Away Places—and News

MRS. ROBERT FRANS

Early June Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Marilee Nebelsick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Nebelsick, to Robert E. Frans, son of Mr. and M C. E. Frans of Laurel, was solemnized at 7:30 o'clock, Friday evening, June 10, at Westminster Presbyterian church. The lines of the double ring ceremony were read by the Rev John Douglas Clyde before a background of white peonies and peach-toned gladioli in large floor baskets, and white candles burning in four pedestal candelabra.

Wearing like frocks of pink frosted organdy, Mrs. Charles Bolus and Miss Lucille Robison lighted the candles in the chancel and also the white tapers tied with satin which marked the processional aisle. Kenneth Hines of Sterling, Ill., cousin of the bride, sang "Because," and "At Dawning," preceding the service accompanied by Miss Josephine Waddell, organist, who also played the wedding music.

Miss Lois Larson was the maid of honor and wore a colonial gown of green frosted organdy, and frocked in yellow organdy were the bridesmaids, Mrs. John H. Nebelsick, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Jean Frans of Sioux City, Iowa, sister of the bridegroom. The attendants' identical gowns were designed with low portrait necklines, fitted bodices and full skirts trimmed at the back with bows of organdy. Their wide-brimmed hats of green straw were ornamented with floor length satin streamers which were caught up to fasten their cascade bouquets of garden flowers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and appeared in a gown of white net and Chantilly lace. The lace fashioned the basque bodice which was accented with a heart-shaped neckline and long fitted sleeves pointed over the hands, and the lace motif was repeated in a brief peplum beneath which the full skirt of net tapered into a train. An illusion cap caught at either side of the head by pearl clips held her finger tip veil of imported illusion, and she carried a shower bouquet of gardenias and white feathered carnations centered with an orchid and tied with white satin. She wore a double strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Ronald Frans of Sioux City, Iowa, served his brother as best man, and the ushers were Jess Truby of Laurel, John H. Nebelsick, Harold Nebelsick and Delmar Wilson.

A reception for two hundred fifty guests was held in the church parlors where a tiered wedding cake topped with a nosegay of gardenias formed the centerpiece of the bridal table. Among those assisting at the reception were Mrs. Arthur Larson, Mrs. Arthur Nebelsick of Crete, Mrs. Floyd Randolph, Mrs. Warren Sisler of Holmsville, Miss Helen Howard Miss Nancy Nelson, Miss Carol DeWitt, Miss Helen Schultz, Miss Elinor Clark, Miss Janet Harrison, Miss Carol Harris, Miss Jean Ward, Miss Miriam Willy, Miss Ruth Randolph and Mrs. Delmar Wilson.

Followni a wedding trip to Estes Park, Colo., the couple will reside at 5008 Adams. Mrs. Frans wore for traveling a navy blue suit with a beige topper, matching beige accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride is a former student of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Towne club, and Mr. Frans is completing his studies at the university agricultural college.

Mary Jane Hewett Marries Irving R. Dana At Rushville

The marriage of Miss Mary Jane Hewett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Hewett of Rushville, to Irving R. Dana, son of Mrs. Irving Dana of Lincoln, was solemnized at a 2 o'clock ceremony, last Saturday afternoon, June 18, at the Rushville Presbyterian church. White pedestal baskets filled with red roses and white gladioli decorated the chancel for the service, the lines of which were read by the Rev. Earl Burger.

Miss Carol Younkin of Kearney, accompanied by Mrs. R. L. Hook, organist, sang "Through The Years," and "Because," preceding the ceremony as Miss Jean Dana of Lincoln, sister of the bridegroom, wearing a gown of leaf green marquisette, lighted the altar candles. Mrs. Hook also played the the bridal music from Lohengrin as a processional, and Mendelssohn's Wedding March as a recessional.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Miss Arlene Hewett, who wore a colonial gown of marquisette in the peach tone. Her arm bouquet was fashioned of red roses tied with matching ribbon.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and appeared in a gown of French marquisette and Chantilly lace. A deep ruffle of the lace formed the off-shoulder neckline of the fitted marquisette bodice, and long sleeves ended in points over the hands. The full, double-tiered skirt of marquisette tapered into a lace-trimmed train, and the lace motif was repeated in the bonnet brim which held her veil of imported illusion. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses.

Marvin Curtiss of Lincoln, served Mr. Dana as best man, and the ushers were Paul Burden and Robert Martin, both of Lincoln.

Following a small reception held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dana left for a wedding trip to Canada, after which they will reside at 2121 Washington, in Lincoln. Mrs. Dana wore for traveling a royal blue suit with grey accessories.

The bride is a former student of Stephens college, Columbia, Mo., and graduated this month from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Delta Delta. Mr. Dana is completing his studies at the University of Nebraska college of architectural engineering and is a member of Alpha Tau Omega.

Church Ceremony

MRS. CLYDE BAUERS

The marriage of Miss Maxine Wendling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Wendling, to Clyde Bauers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Bauers, took place on Sunday evening, June 5, at Tabernacle Christian church. Bouquets of white snapdragons and button chrysanthemums, and lighted candles in branched candelabra, appointed the altar and the lines of the double ring ceremony were read by the Rev. Russell M. Bythewood.

The wedding music was played by Houghton Furr, organist, who also accompanied Miss Maxine Wood who sang, "Because," and "Into The Dawn With You," preceding the service. Lighting the candles were Mrs. Tedd Bennett and Miss Ila Mae McDougal.

Attending her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Robert Drake who was frocked in pastel rose satin designed with brief, cap sleeves, heartshaped neckline and fitted bodice, and full, gored skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of white and rose button chrysanthemums. Wearing identical gowns of blue satin were the bridesmaids, Mrs. Jack Mehser and Miss Margaret Bauers, cousin of the bridegroom. Halo brims of tulle and long satin mitts to match their gowns completed the attendants' costumes. Mrs. Mehser and Miss Bauers carried white button chrysanthemums.

Flower girl was Miss Barbara Jean Wendling, sister of the bride, wearing a frock of pink organdy, and ringbearer was Donald Wendling, brother of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of traditional white satin. A heart-shaped neckline and long fitted sleeves accented the bodice, and the full skirt tapered into a long train beneath a draped peplum. A Mary, Queen of Scots, brim of tulle trimmed with seed pearls held her brief veil of illusion, and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and gardenias centered with an orchid.

Melvin Bauers served his cousin as best man, and the ushers were Dwight Doran and Ivan Doran.

A four-tiered wedding cake decorated with mock orange blossoms, and white tapers in crystal candelabra, appointed the refreshment table at the reception, which was held in the church parlors. Assisting at the affair were Mrs. Ralph Colbert and Miss Ila Mae McDougal.

Following a wedding trip to Denver, Colo., the couple will reside in Lincoln. The bride wore for traveling a grey summer suit with navy accessories and an orchid corsage.

MRS. DAVID INNIS

Announcement is made today by Mr. and Mrs. George H. Gobar of Fullerton, Cal., of the marriage of her daughter, Lois Jeanne, to David James Innis, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Innis of Manila, P. I., which took place at a 10:30 o'clock ceremony on Saturday, June 4, at the First Methodist church in Pocatello, Idaho. Lighted candles and deep red peonies formed the chancel appointments.

Wearing a blue silk frock, Mrs. Harry Tullis of Pocatello, was the matron of honor and only attendant. Her shoulder corsage was of pink carnations. Mr. Tullis served Mr. Innis as best man.

The bride appeared in a white wool suit, and wore a cluster of mock orange blossoms in her hair.

Mrs. Innis was graduated this month from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Kappa Delta sorority, and of Phi Beta Kappa. Mr. Innis is attending the University of Nebraska.

Out Of Town Ceremony

MRS. W. EUGENE OWENS

At a late afternoon ceremony solemnized on Sunday, June 5, at the First Congregational church at Crete, Miss Lois Znamenacek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Znamenacek of Crete, became the bride of W. Eugene Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Owens. Lighted white tapers in seven-branched candelabra, and arrangements of white peonies and greenery, decorated the chancel for the 4 o'clock service, the lines of which were read by the Rev. J. F. Balzer.

As the candles were lighted by Miss Arlene Znamenacek and Miss Virginia Moore, frocked alike in gowns of pastel pink and blue-green taffeta, Miss Leona Kupka sang, "Always," "Through The Years," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by the church organist, who also played the wedding music.

Maid of honor was Miss Jo Ann Znamenacek, and bridesmaids were Miss Marilyn Kerst, Miss June Koskan, Miss Irene Boehler and Miss Janet Owens. The attendants wore identical gowns of dotted organza in pastel tones of yellow, orchid and leaf green, designed with softly draped bodices, full puffed sleeves and flared skirts. Wearing a similar frock of powder blue organdy was the junior bridesmaid, Miss Nancy Znamenacek, and the flower girl, Miss Sherry Znamenacek, was frocked in yellow dotted Swiss. The attendants all carried arm bouquets of Talisman roses and wore head bands of daisies tinted to match their frocks.

For her wedding, the bride chose a period gown of white marquisette. A deep ruffle of marquisette edged with lace framed the V-shaped yoke of sheer net, and the fitted bodice was completed with long sleeves. Insertions of the lace trimmed the softly-fulled skirt, which ended in a train, and the lace motif was repeated at the hem of the illusion veil, which was held by a brim of shirred illusion. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses.

Serving Mr. Owens as best man was Clarence Newsham, and the ushers were Jim Dunn, Lindley Christensen, Truman Phelan and Merlyn Znamenacek. Roger Znamenacek was ringbearer.

A reception was held in the parlors of the church following the ceremony, and, later in the evening, Mr. Owens and his bride left for Colorado, where they will reside at Boulder during the summer months while Mr. Owens attends the University of Colorado. Both Mr. and Mrs. Owens are former students of the University of Nebraska.

Australians Find Mid-Winter Shortages Cause For Gloom

SYDNEY, Australia—(AP)—Shivering, squinting Sydney residents longed today for a hot bath and a hot meal.

They shivered because heating is banned and it is mid-winter. The temperature stood at 41 degrees this morning.

They squinted because electricity to light up shops, homes, offices and cafes also is banned.

These restrictions are enforced because of a small coal reserve in the face of a threatened general strike next Monday. The miners want higher pay and shorter hours.

It was Sydney's third gloomy day with sharply rationed gas, coal and coke.

Most factories are closed because they are not allowed to use electric power. Nearly 300,000 men and women are out of work in Sydney and other cities in New South Wales.

Fire Sweeps Los Angeles' Griffith Park

. . . Never Reached Zoo

LOS ANGELES—(INS)—Some 300 acres atop Griffith park's 1,800-foot Beacon hill and the surrounding area lay blackened today after a spectacular and menacing fire of unknown origin.

The blaze was brought under control last night more than six hours after it broke out. It had raced to within a half-mile of Los Angeles' famous zoo.

Two hours after the fire started, another blaze flared on the 260-acre backlot of Universal-International studios near the opposite end of the park. This blaze swept over more than 40 acres, 10 on the lot, and destroyed four flimsy buildings.

Ten fire department companies, aided by park employes and volunteers, fought the Griffith park fire which sent up billows of smoke visible for miles.

Zoo attendants stood ready for three hours to evacuate the 950 animals if necessary. Keepers remained at cage and pen doors as clouds of smoke soared upward from the two blazes.

Capital Wharf Area Hit.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Eight firemen were injured or overcome by smoke today in a predawn fire that swept through roof sections of municipal fish wharves along the Potomac river.

Fire Marshal Roy Warfield tentatively set the damage at between $25,000 and $50,000, most of it from water that firemen poured into a row of waterfront restaurants.

City Defendant In $6,272 Suit

A $6,272 personal injury suit, arising from an alleged fall on icy streets last winter, was filed in District court Tuesday by Mrs. Clara J. Simpson against the City of Lincoln, Ernest P. Skinner and Spencer and Yost, Inc.

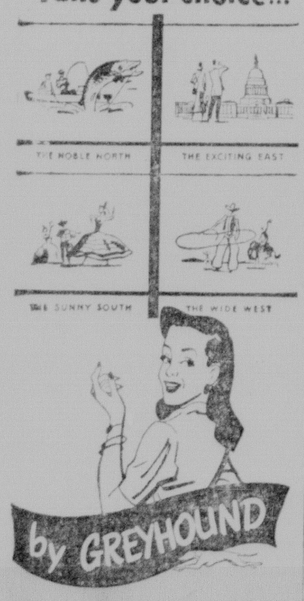

She states she suffered injuries to her left ankle and foot from a fall on the sidewalk on P street between Fourteenth and Fifteenth Jan. 10, 1949.

The petition states Skinner was tenant of the building fronting the sidewalk and that Spencer & Yost, Inc., were owners of the lot on which the building is located. The plaintiff claims it was the city's duty to see that the walk was clear of ice and now after the others had failed to do so.

Mrs. Simpson's claim was denied Monday by the city council upon recommendation of the legal department. She did not file her claim with the city clerk until Feb. 15. Accordingr to City Attorney John Jacobson a claim for personal injury must be filed within thirty days after the injury.

In her claim Mrs. Simpson says she was "so physically and mentally incapacitated" that she was unable to give notice to the city until Feb. 11.

News Stories Bring Many Applications For Teaching Jobs

Last Friday's newspaper stories revealing the shortage of rural school teachers has brought a bonanza of applications and inquiries to County Superintendent Glenn Turner's office in the past few days.

Turner reported Tuesday that four of the county's 20 "teacherless' school districts have since hired teachers. One applicant inquired Saturday morning and was hired a few hours later.

Turner said he has received 12 mail applications and about 20 applications and inquiries by telephone. He's still in the market for more, he said Tuesday.

Friday's stories revealed that salaries in the county's 80 rural districts ranged from $135 to $250 per month, with an average of $172.

$750,000 BLAZE.

OMAHA—(AP)—Douglas county commissioners are preparing for a "$750,000 fire" Thursday. They plan to burn that amount in bonds which were issued in 1929 to finance construction of Douglas County hospital. The last two outstanding bonds in the issue were received two weeks ago.

Zoning Change Asked

A change in zoning status request of 1319 South Nineteenth from residence C to apartment A was made by Johnson-Schafer, Inc., of 3318 A street Tuesday.

In the request filed with the city clerk it is stated they wish to build a four-family apartment at that site, but the lot is three feet short of the required width. If this is changed to apartment A, the requirement will not apply, they say.

FATHERS DAY GIFT.

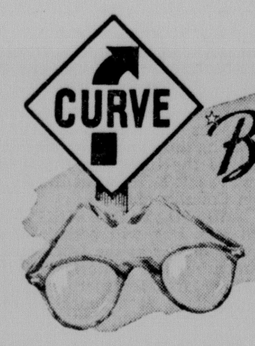

FALLS CITY, Neb.—(AP)—Fathers day brought William Rowland of Salem, Neb., a fitting present: An addition to his family. Mrs. Rowland gave birth to an eight pound, 15 ounce boy, the family's 12th child.

Typhoon Kills 137

Japanese Ministry Lists 1,086 Missing

TOKYO — (AP) — The welfare ministry counted 137 dead and 1,086 missing in the furious typhoon that swept southern Japan.

Figures differed on the death toll, however. Police said 93 perished.

Property and shipping damage soared into the millions of dollars.

Included in the missing were 131 Japanese who may have perished when the vessel Aboa Maru foundered off the southern Honshu coast.

The Japanese marine safety board listed 161 fishing boats sunk and 678 wooden fishing boats missing.

Reports to the welfare ministry indicated approximately 2,000 homes were destroyed.

No Americans have been reported injured in the typhoon which swept near the big American base on Okinawa island.

Wilson Renamed To National Post On U. S. Chamber

. . . Finance Committee

Howard S. Wilson, Lincoln, has accepted reappointment on the U. S. chamber committee on federal finance, President John F. Lawlor of the Lincoln chamber reported to his board of directors Wednesday.

"Since there are only 22 members of this important national chamber group, we feel that Lincoln is especially honored that Wilson was asked to serve another year. He is the only committee member residing between St. Paul, Minn., and Denver," Lawlor said.

Wilson's committee advises the U. S. chamber on federal taxes, expenditures, public debt and governmental fiscal procedure. Its recommendations, when cleared by the chamber directors, are presented to congress, to various governmental agencies and to the president.

Food Prices Unchanged

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food price index this week held unchanged from a week ago at $5.68.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of a pound each of 31 foods in general use. The current figure is 20.7 per cent below the year-ago index of $7.16.

Five Seamen Die As Ship Strikes Mine

. . . Near French Coast

DUNKERQUE, France—(AP)—Live steam killed five Belgian seamen, trapped in an engine room, when the cross-channel vessel Princess Astrid struck a mine last night and sank four miles off the French coast. Twenty of the 415 passengers were hurt in the disaster.

Channel boats reached the scene within a few minutes and began taking off the survivors.

Better Farmer, City Hunting Alliance Sought

Education through schools and civic clubs to improve farmer-city sportsman hunting relations was recommended Tuesday at an Izaak panel of six speakers at an Izaak Walton league meeting.

Speakers discussed effects of conservation farming on wildlife at the meeting held in the Y.W. C.A. The panel was led by Stan Matzke, farm editor of The Star and Journal newspapers.

Interest Growing.

He stated that farmer interest in what city police think about conservation is growing and then added:

"The cost is too great to be borne by the farmers alone in the time in which we think the conservation job must be done."

Sidney S. Burton, state forester of the soil conservation service, said wildlife in the state is seeking protection in soil conservation service shelter belts.

Homes For Wildlife.

D. E. Hutchinson, Lancaster county conservationist of the soil conservative service, also told the group that "soil conservation farms make homes for wildlife."

"Shelter belts stand out among the good results of conservation," Ward M. Ostberg, program specialist of the Production and Marketing association, said.

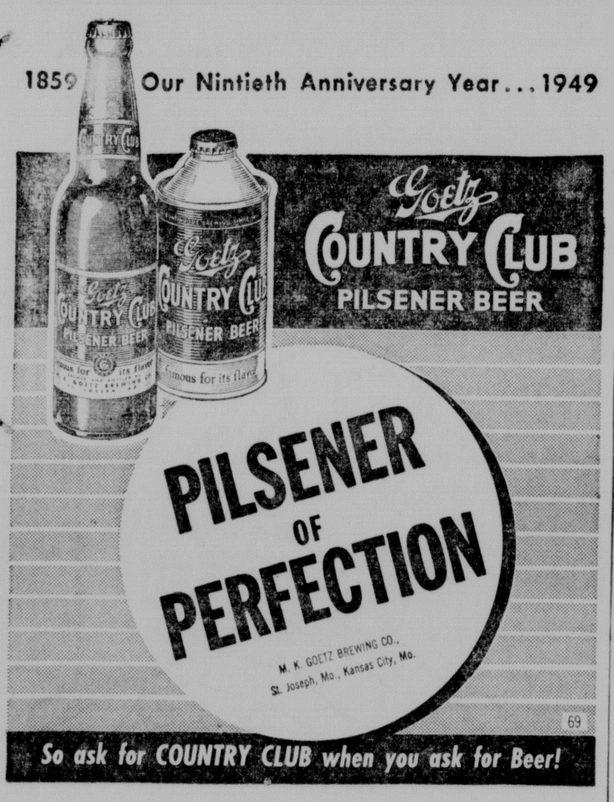

Paul T. Gilbert, executive secretary of the game forestation and parks commission, stressed the need for education and cooperation of civic groups. Hunters from cities are acting worse every year, he said.

District Judge John L. Polk, representing city sportsmen, said the refusal of city men to take an active part in conservation calls for a program to segregate and ostracize selfish persons.

Excavation Under Way For Crete's $225,000 Hospital

CRETE'S $225,000 HOSPITAL will be located on one of the city's higher elevations, overlooking the business district between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets, facing Grove avenue. The modern 26-bed hospital, a one-story structure, will be complete in every detail, including air conditioning.

Plans Call For 26-Bed Structure

Expected To Be Ready For Use By Next Summer

(Special to The Star)

CRETE, Neb.—Crete's $225,000 hospital will soon become a reality.

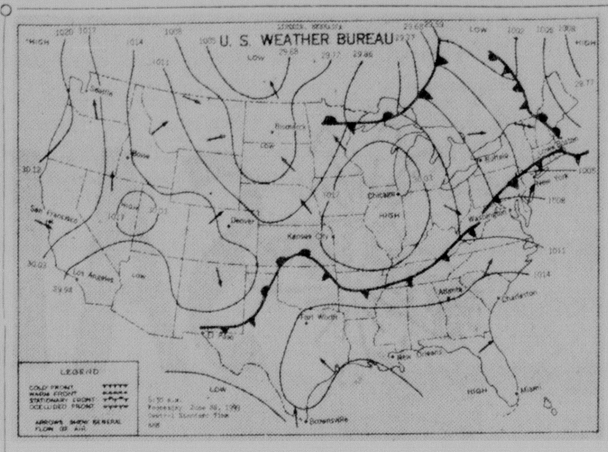

Excavation for the modern 26-bed hospital is now under way and completion of the hospital is slated for within about 240 days. The digging, beginning late last week, was delayed somewhat by continued rains.

"It has been estimated that the overa-all costs, including site, paving, electricity, water and sewer will run well over $225,000," Mayor Thomas J. Aron announced.

The government's grant will be approximately $70,000. The city has sold $110,000 in bonds and the balance is being raised by popular subscription, a project sponsored by the Crete junior chamber of commerce. Other organizations are also lending aid in behalf of the hospital project.

The one-story air conditioned hospital will be located on one of the higher elevations of Crete overlooking the business district between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets, facing Grove avenue. The 13-room building itself will face west.

Federal approval for the construction of the hospital was received just recently, Mayor Aron said. The hospital is expected to begin operations next summer.

WEATHER BUREAU SUMMARY—The long trough of low pressure extending from western Canada southward to the Dakotas has resulted in southerly winds over the northern Plains and warmer weather is returning Wednesday to be followed by not so warm Thursday after the trough passes. Temperatures in the middle and upper 90s occurred Tuesday afternoon from the West Gulf states westward, except for readings of 100 or more in northeastern Texas and southern Arizona.

Wyoming's State Engineer Favors Glendo Dam Study

CHEYENNE, Wyo.—(AP)—An amendment to withhold appropriations for the controversial Moorhead and Glendo reclamation dam project has won the support of Wyoming State Engineer L. C. Bishop.

The amendment has been offered by Sen. J. C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) to hold up appropriations for the projects until final plans are submitted to each of the states involved for review and approval by congress.

Bishop said yesterday he felt review by the states would make it possible to negotiate contracts satisfactory to the states before construction work starts.

The various types of aircraft used by the air guard will be on display, including a C-47 transport, B-26, F-51, F-80, and L-5 liaison plane.

Several of the planes and a jet engine will be partially disassembled for close inspection by the public. Two drill periods of the guard have been extended to a regular work day schedule for the event.

Taking part in the show will be the 173rd fighter squadron, one of the five jet-propelled air guard squadrons in the nation and the only one in the midwest.

Ickes 'Curmudgeons' Advice Offered By His Generation

. . . During Radcliffe Commencement Address

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—(INS)—Harold L. Ickes told his granddaughter and 210 other graduating seniors at Radcliffe college today:

"My advice to you . . . is that you be chary about taking any advice whatever from people of my generation."

The former secretary of the interior explained his advice by saying he doubts "whether there has been a generation on earth, since the human race began to walk on two legs, that has made such a mess of things as my generation."

"It is a human achievement unparalleled in history," he added, "to have brought the world to such an appalling state of confusion in so short a time."

Ickes' theme was "world-wide chaos," and "international policies pregnant with death and destruction and domestic instability."

He said his faith for a better world lies in the young—"people who are young enough to entertain new ideas, and who have the wisdom to refuse to accept as binding precedent the mistakes and failures of their elders."

Draught Beer Flows Again As Strike Ends

NEW YORK—(INS)—New York breweries began rushing draught beer to bars and taverns today following the end of an 82-day strike which cost 11 breweries and distributors an estimated $1,000,000 daily in lost sales.

After 82 days of idleness, strikers began streaming back to work at midnight.

Biggest point won by the union is a reduction in weekly working hours sought by inside employes.

SEATTLE—(AP)—Joe Crosson, noted Alaska mercy flier in the 1930s, died yesterday.

Crosson was the bush pilot who flew the bodies of Will Rogers and Wiley Post from Point Barrow, Alaska, to Seattle after they were killed in their attempted flight around the world in 1935.

Crosson died at his work—in his office at Seattle's Boeing field. He moved to Seattle from Alaska in 1944 to manage the Northwest Air Service.

Detroit Heat Idles Workers

. . . At Auto Plants

DETROIT — (AP) — "Heat strikes" caused approximately 17,000 auto workers to be idle yesterday.

Chrysler Corp. said it was forced to send home 12,000 employes. Production was stalled, the company said, when a group of men quit.

Kaiser-Frazer halted its two assembly lines, laying off 5,000. Trim department workers had left.

Detroit's temperature of 86 degrees was accompanied by excessive humidity.

The Chicago Stags were the highest scoring team in the basketball association of America last season, notching 3,640 points in 48 games for an average of 75.9.

Problem Of Juvenile Crime Primarily One Of Prevention

. . . Declares Father Wegner, Of Boys Town

"The problem of juvenile crime is primarily a problem of prevention," Father Nicholas H. Wegner, director of Father Flanagan's Boys Town, declared in an address at the institute on juvenile delinquncy problems held at the University of Nebraska Tuesday afternoon.

The four-day institute sponsored by the university and co-operating agencies opened Monday to afford state community leaders a chance to conduct a co-operative study of juvenile problems.

Must Give Help.

Father Wegner said "it is difficult to change the habit patterns of a youth long neglected. This requires time, infinite patience, and a sympathetic understanding of the psychology of the child mind."

"Of course," he continued, "where a boy has gotten into trouble, something must be done to help him straighten himself out; but the best and most constructive youth program is that which is directed toward prevention rather than correction."

Even the experts are not agreed as to where the responsibility for the causes of juvenile crime lies, Father Wegner added. "Perhaps the parents have been blamed most. Environment, community indifference, and even the schools have come in for their share of criticism.

"But the problem of juvenile crime cannot be conveniently narrowed down. It cuts across every segment of community life, and includes the home, the school, the church, environment, the neighborhood, and the community as a whole," he said.

The factor considered most important in juvenile crime by Father Wegner was that "pertaining to religious training and moral d' cipline. It is most important in the character development of the youth and is the factor so seldom mentioned when the subject of juvenile crime is discussed," he stated.

"Another factor in juvenile crime is emotional impoverishment," he said. Two reasons for the importance of emotions are that "emotions are powerful incentives for action and they help to shape behavior patterns which, once established, are painfully difficult to change," he added.

"Rejection by the community" is another significant factor according to Father Wegner. Because the parents of a boy may be drifters they are not welcome in the community. The parents are able to withstand this feeling but the boy is not. Consequently, at school and at play "he is excluded from the group and as a result he suffers deep psychological wounds," he said.

Broken Home.

"The broken home" is another factor in juvenile crime said Father Wegner. "Statistics show," he continued, "that between 50 and 60 per cent of the teen-agers who get into trouble come from such homes."

Father Wegner said that the first important factor "is the lack of adequate play, facilities, parks, and youth activity groups." Some communities have excellent programs and youth activity groups, yet fail to realize the maximum benefit of these because they fail to reach the youth who is most in need of what they have to offer, he said.

More and more communities however, are awakening to the importance of playgrounds, parks, and youth activities for young people, he continued.

RED SOX CLIMB OVER DETROIT 7-1 FOR SIXTH STRAIGHT WIN

BY LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK—(INS)—The American league pennant race began to tighten up Wednesday and it looked like a real scramble for the wire.

The amazing Philadelphia Athletics and the not so amazing Boston Red Sox both progressed in the standings Tuesday while the league-leading New York Yankees idled.

A grand slam home run by Elmer Valo and the pitching of Lou Brissie defeated the Cleveland Indians Tuesday night by 8 to 2 as the Athletics climbed over the Detroit Tigers into second place in the standings.

Brissie scored his seventh triumph of the season in turning back the Indians, who started ace Bob Lemon but found him not around at the finish.

SOX IN FOURTH.

The Tigers lost again to the Red Sox, by 7 to 1, as the latter club scored its sixth straight victory to pull up into undisputed hold on fourth place over the beaten Indians.

The Red Sox triumph was marked by Ted Williams' 17th home run and by the six-hit hurling of Lefty Mel Parnell, who thus scored his ninth win of the season.

The Tigers' only run came in the first when George Kell homered.

The Washington Senators beat the Chicago White Sox, 9 to 3.

YANKS FOUR AHEAD.

As a result of the day's festivities the Yankees now are four games ahead of the Athletics and 4½ ahead of the Tigers.

In the National league the Brooklyn Dodgers increased their leadership to 1½ games over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Dodgers took a night game from the Cincinnati Reds by 9 to 4, while the Cardinals were losing to the New York Giants, 6 to 5 in 12 innings.

Preacher Roe and Rex Barney combined to score the Dodger triumph while Dave Koslo went all the way to win for the Giants in a hectic battle which saw Manager Leo Durocher, of the winners, thrown out of the game for disputing a decision.

MARSHALL TRIPLES.

The Giants won out in the 12th when Willard Marshall tripled and scored on Wes Westrum's outfield fly.

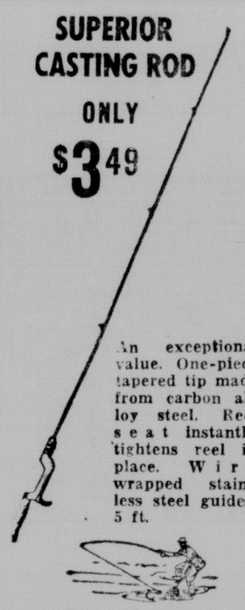

Rookie Joe Lafata of the Giants hit a homer with the bases loaded in the sixth to help the winning cause.

Ted Wilks was charged with the defeat.

The Philadelphia Phillies climbed into third place in the standings by defeating the Pittsburgh Pirates, 9 to 4, in a night game after the Boston Braves had lost an afternoon contest to the Chicago Cubs by 8 to 4.

Lou Brissie In Dilemma

. . . Leg Injury

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Lou Brissie is in a dilemma—torn between his desire to play baseball and the necessity for additional operations on his war-shattered left leg.

If it wasn't for his love of baseball, the Ware Shoals, S. C., southpaw wouldn't be pitching for the Philadelphia Athletics today.

A burning ambition to be in the big leagues prompted him to refuse permission for amputations of his left leg after being wounded in Italy's Apennines mountains. That determination carried him through 23 operations and 40 blood transfusions.

More Operations.

But now doctors have told him the work already done on his brace-protected leg is not enough. Sooner or later, they say, more operations will be required.

Dr. Charles Suraci, Washington, D. C., thinks that the sooner performed, the more lasting will be the surgery.

A seven-months series of plastic operations designed to graft flesh on the raw scar tissue has been advised.

"I don't know what to do," Brissie said. "I have the utmost confidence in Dr. Suraci—he was one of the army doctors who helped save my leg in the first place—but it is a question of time.

"I'd have to knock off the last two weeks of the season and miss at least the first two weeks of spring training—even on the assumption all went according to schedule."

"There can be no doubt that Lou has all the attributes of a great pitcher," says battery coach Earle Brucker, "but whether that leg will permit him to become one remains to be seen.

JACKPOT.

Fishing at Oak Creek lake the trio bagged 45 carp, which averaged slightly over two pounds.

Ralph Moore Here July 4

Ralph Moore, the ex-marine from Austin, Minn., will carry the colors of the Gopher state in the fourth annual mid-summer championship big-car auto races slated for the State Fair track Monday, July 4, at the wheel of a new car.

Moore notified Secretary Edwin Schultz that he was bringing a two-car team here for the annual dirt track classic and that he would pilot his new six-cylinder Knudsen Special set in a streamlined Kurtis-Craft chassis.

The Minnesota owner-driver stated that he was dickering with a well-known Indianapolis chauffeur to wheel his second car, but may consider giving one of the top-notch Nebraska midget car drivers a crack at dirt competition.

Schultz said that at least 20 cars and drivers are in prospect for the seven-event program. Time trials start at 1:30 p. m. and the first race at 2:30 p. m.

Charles Favored For Title

NBA Version Of Heavy Crown At Stake Tonight

By JERRY LISKA.

CHICAGO—(AP)— Jersey Joe Walcott, fighting 35-year-old father of six children, and Ezzard Charles, a belting bachelor of 180 pounds, battle for the world heavyweight boxing title (NBA version) at Comiskey Park Wednesday night (8:30 p. m. CST).

The crowd, like the choice of fighters, was a take-your-pick proposition with around 25,000 the best guess. The weatherman, however, promised clear, cool weather to perk up general admission sales.

The two Negro contenders to retired Joe Louis' vacated crown were to wegih-in at 11 a. m. (CST) at Chicago Stadium. Walcott, the aging but clever clouter from Camden, N. J., was expected to scale 194. That would give him as approximate 15-pound weight pull if Cincinnati's 27-year-old Charles came in at a likely 179.

Official Weigh-In

CHICAGO — (AP)—Jersey Joe Walcott outweighed Ezzard Charles 195½ to 181¾, at Wednesday's formal weigh-in for their NBA-world heavyweight championship bout at Comiskey Park Wednesday night (8:30 p. m. CST).

WALCOTT DANGEROUS.

It was exactly 12 years ago tonight in Comiskey park that Louis sledge-hammered the heavyweight crown off the scarred brow of James J. Braddock. Louis retired as undefeated champion last March.

As time for the 15-round affair neared, the eight-years-younger Charles was a dwindling 10 to 13 favorite. Apparently the gamblers, like the fight writers, were beginning to minimize Ezzy's age advantage in the face of Walcott's 130-pro bout experience and two agile performances against then-champion Louis.

More and more, they recalled how Walcott toppled Louis twice in their first meeting and lost a highly-debated decision only because he climbed on his bicycle in the closing rounds.

LOUIS DENIES RUMORS.

Each fighter will get 25 per cent of net receipts, plus a like slice of radio and television sugar, estimated at $35,000.

For arm-chair fans, the fight will be broadcast (ABC) and on television (NBS) with exception of the immediate Chicago area which will be blacked out.

Tonight's winner will not be recognized as world champion by the New York State Athletic Commission or the British boxing board.

The New York commission, a non-NBA member, wants a "tournament" of contenders before crowning any world champ. The British board will label the winner of the Bruce Woodcock-Lee Savold bout in England, September 6, as the heavyweight monarch.

Then there are whispers, vehemently denied by Louis, that the Brown Bomber himself may emerge from retirement to get another whack at a big purse, especially if Charles wins Wednesday night.

In event of a postponement, the bout will be held Thursday or Friday.

Bears Swamp Lincoln

Pound Out 19 Hits For 16-2 Victory

DENVER — (AP) — Denver's cellar dwelling Bears blistered the Lincoln Athletics 16-2 in a Western league baseball game here Tuesday night.

The home team hammered 19 hits off the offerings of Bob Palash and Dewey Melton, scoring in every inning but the first.

Meantime big Ernie Johnson registered a steady pitching job for Denver, fanning 13, walking only two and giving eight scattered hits.

The game proved a much-needed shot in the arm for the Bears. Every Bear player got at least one hit and all except Walt Linden punched home a run.

Dio Grose took individual batting honors with four singles in five trips to the plate.

The teams play here again Wednesday night.

CARDS EDGE SOOS.

SIOUX CITY, Ia.—(AP)—Bob Mahoney won a pitching duel from Vinnie Di Lorenzo and Sam Brewer of the Sioux City Soos here Tuesday as the Omaha Cardinals took a 4-2 victory.

A Shrine night turnout of 7,730 set a New park attendance record, the figure being more than 2,000 above the previous high set for a Sioux City-Pueblo game in the 1947 season.

Mahoney gave up five hits and kept them well scattered. The Cards could get only five blows off Di Lorenbo and Brewer but bunched three for all their runs.

LONDON — (AP) — Gertrude (Gussie) Moran of Santa Monica, Calif., led the American contingent into the third round of Women's singles at Wimbledon Wednesday when she scored a 6-1, 6-4 victory over Betty Wilford of Britain.

A standing-room crowd packed the No. 1 court to admire the tournament's "glamor girl" and her much publicized lace under panties, which she wore for the first time Wedensday.

Big Ten Shades Pacific

D. Gehrmann Does Iron Man Act In Track Win

BERKELEY, Calif. — (INS) — The gap is narrowing but the Western conference, also known as the "Big Ten," is still a better outfit than the Pacific Coast conference.

The Big Ten proved it Tuesday night at Berkeley's Edwards stadium when its all-star track team defeated the best the coast had to offer 70 to 62 in the ninth annual dual meet between the two organizations.

It was the fourth straight victory for the Big Ten after the PCC had won the first five meets. But like the 1949 Rose Bowl game where Northwestern beat California by a lone touchdown after the previous one-sided victories of Illinois over UCLA and Michigan over USC, the margin was much narrower than it has been the previous two years when the middlewestern athletes won the meet by better than 50 points.

GEHRMANN HERO.

Tuesday evening's victory was due largely to the herculean efforts of the 130-pound Don Gehrmann of Wisconsin, who received most of the cheers from the crowd of 14,000 when the meet was over.

The wee Wisconsite won the mile in 4:16.5 and the half-mile by a couple of inches from Herb Barten of Michigan in 1:52.2.

That looked like a day's work for any man but with his team's victory at stake, the little fellow volunteered to run a lap of the relay and did a good enough job of it to give Ohio State's Mal Whitfield a three-yard lead which he increased to 10 over Southern California's Mel Stocks in the anchor lap and cinch the meet.

Tennis Tourney Entries In Friday

Bob Kleinert and Billy Barrett, 1947 Muny doubles champions, will vie for the singles championship this week end on the Muny courts.

Bob Slezak and Don McArthur, ranking one and three respectively on the Husker net crew, are expected to give the '47 team champs stiff competition.

Other ranking netmen who will compete include Mark Bullock, 1947 Municipal singles champ, and Winfield Elmen, Lincoln Tennis club veteran.

Because inclement weather has hampered net activity the past month, the date for entering the various events has been extended to 5 p. m. Friday. Pairings will be posted at Muny Saturday morning and play will get under way Saturday.

Other entries include: Bill Henkle, Walt Weaver, Chuck Wehrer, Ray Abernethy, Dick Salladin, Bob Catterson, Art Weaver, Junie Greer, Lennie Curd, Ruth Benzing, Pat Hart and Barbara Wood.

Goddard And Byrne Meet; Quarterfinals

OMAHA — (AP) — There was one thing certain about the Nebraska Women's State golf tourney Wednesday: An Omaha woman is going to win it.

Eight Omahans were to take part in quarter-finals beginning Wednesday.

Toughest competition appeared slated for the top bracket where Mrs. E. L. Goddard, three times medalist, was to play Mrs. John Byrne, 1946 champion.

The other match in that bracket paired Francis Galus, Omaha Women's champion, and Joan Martig.

WRANIC GOOD BET.

In the bottom division, Betty Wranic, who was to play Mrs. Ed Hinton, and the defending champion, Mrs. W. O. Larson, who was matched with Mrs. L. G. Shiver, looked like good bets to win.

Tuesday, Mrs. Goddard defeated Mrs. Ray Muzzy, Fremont, 6 and 5.

A Fremont golfer in the first flight fared better. She was Mrs. Marshall Holt who won from Mrs. Paul Gallagher of Omaha, 2 up. In another first flight match, Anita Currey, Omaha, defeated Mrs. Henry Schuff, Grand Island, 4-3.

In second flight play, Mrs. Marian Martin of Grand Island Riverside club defeated Mrs. Don Hammond, Omaha, 2-1, but another Grand Island player, Roseann McLaughlin, was beaten 1 up by Mrs. W. L. Gillogly of Omaha.

Lincoln golfing fans have a chance to see four outstanding women golfers in action Sunday at the Lincoln Country club.

As a preview to the week-long Trans-Mississippi tournament, Patty Berg, Polly Riley, Betty Mac Kinnion and Lucille Mann will stage a free exhibition over the Country club course.

The Trans list added two more names Tuesday as Gracie DeMoss of Corvallis, Ore., and Edean Anderson of Helena, Mont., filed their entries.

Miss DeMoss, a student at Oregon State, copped the Arizona title and the Pebble Beach crown this year and has won the Portland, Ore., city laurels in 1947 and 1948.

Miss Anderson, 19 years old, has played golf since she was 13. She is a five-time winner of the Montana state crown and also attends Oregon State.

An information booth will be in the Cornhusker hotel this Friday, Saturday and Sunday regarding the Trans-Mississippi meet.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
